Bigger Sales To West Urged by Red

WARSAW (Reuters)—Communist leader Wladyslaw Gombolka, in a major speech to the central committee of the Communist party, called for a major drive to step up exports to "capitalistic markets" and for a major overhaul of Poland's export structure to meet changing economic conditions.

No Spring Peak

Fallout Stays Low

An expected "spring peak" of fallout from Russia's bomb tests last year has failed to materialize so far, Dr. William English of the Pacific Naval Laboratory said yesterday.

Actual fallout count has shown some fluctuation, but is measurably the same as it was in December, he said.

The incidence of fallout has dropped from the October peak which followed the bomb tests, he added.

Experts had predicted a sharp increase this spring when Arctic air masses warmed up with the approach of summer.

Next Stop: Victoria

One of two double-deck Lundy boats expected to arrive in Victoria about May 15 is loaded on board the Parnassus Lines' Pacific Fortune at Liverpool, England. Boats will be painted red and carry tourists on sight-seeing trips around Victoria, says operator Harold Oldham.

'Texas Tower' Nearly Taken

NEW YORK (AP)—The New York Daily News today says the crew of a Russian trawler almost boarded a U.S. Texas Tower which had been temporarily abandoned during rough weather.

To prevent its occupation by the Reds, air force and coast guard units 'had to race' to Texas Tower 2, a $21,000,000 radar structure at Georges Bank, about 110 miles east of the tip of Cape Cod.

The newspaper attributes its report to an unidentified coast guard officer. It does not say when the incident occurred.

Both the air force and the coast guard confirmed. The News says that the steel and concrete radar posts have been abandoned on a few occasions since the loss of 28 men in the collapse of Texas Tower 4 on Jan. 15, 1961, in a storm, 80 miles southeast of New York.

The tower is situated in international waters. A ship abandoned under similar circumstances can be claimed by anyone who boards it.

Gulf-to-Mainland Getting New Ship

Tenders for the construction of a new 40-car ferry for the Gulf Islands-Mainland service will be called within the next few weeks, ferry authority officials said yesterday.

SERVICE STOPPED

The ship must be completed in time for service in mid-1963.

The Gulf Islands-Mainland service was stopped some time ago when the privately-owned ferry service which had been operated withdrew from the run.

400 PASSENGERS

The new ferry will initially carry a maximum of 400 cars but can be enlarged to take 60 cars sometime in the future.

The ship will also be able to accommodate 400 passengers.

Argentine Police Round Up Reds

(CP from AP-Reuters)

BUENOS AIRES—Argentine security forces announced early today the arrest of 156 Communists and the seizure of arms and propaganda materials.

Federal police headquarters said the persons arrested in a series of raids were "of known militancy in communism and its allied organizations." The raids were carried out in Buenos Aires and other key cities, headquarters said.

The announcement came as President Jose Maria Guido met military leaders to discuss their demands for outlawing of Communists and Peronists. The military authorities were reported bearing down on Guido.

The centre of the capital was quiet despite the roundup which took place in Buenos Aires as well as inland cities.

Gondoliers In Blockade

VENICE (AP)—Dozens of gondoliers pushed their craft into a blockade of the San Marco Square leading to the heart of Venice Thursday in a protest against restrictions on the canal.

The gondoliers were complaining that waves from motorboats were making the gondolas dangerously.

'Reluctant' Assent

Court Frees BCE Assets In Victory for Government

VANCOUVER (CP)—The provincial government won its first court victory Thursday in litigation with the B.C. Power Corporation over the sudden expropriation of the giant B.C. Electric public utility last August.

The five-man B.C. Court of Appeal in a 3-to-2 decision upheld the appeal of the former BCE and the attorney-general against a Supreme Court order placing it under receivership and freezing its assets.

B.C. Power obtained the receivership order from Supreme Court Justice Harold Halliday March 22 pending outcome of a suit due for hearing May 1 on legality of the takeover legislation. The order named Dr. H. L. Purdy, former BCE president, as receiver to guard BCE assets said to total $80,000,000.

FREEZE ASSETS

The appeal court decision nullified the receivership and frees the assets of BCE, which, technically no longer exists. The government merged it on paper with the B.C. Power Commission into a single authority—the B.C. Hydro and Power Authority—even while the appeal was under consideration. Dr. Purdy as receiver was not consulted about the merger.

Elderly Woman Killed in Crash At Intersection

An elderly woman died in the collision of an old-model car and a luxury sedan at the corner of Fairfield and Foul Bay Road at 3:25 p.m. yesterday.

The victim is Mrs. Blossom Smith, about 60, of 1502 Regatta Place.

Injured were her husband, George Smith, driver of the English saloon car from which Mrs. Smith was thrown; AB Morris Sherman, 24, Raymond Carroll, 24, both of HMCS Amalboine; and Mrs. Molly Carroll, driver of the second car.

FAB EASTERN CRUISE Josephine Carroll, 3, was unhurt.

Both sailors had returned yesterday morning from a 3½-month cruise to the Orient.

HEADLESS DOLL

A headless Japanese doll and other toys brought back by Raymond Carroll for his daughter, lay scattered and broken on the road and on the front seat of the Carroll's old-model car.

The collision was accompanied by a crash which witnesses said was "like a bomb." Black smoke rose from the car.

The collision was accompanied by a crash which witnesses said was "like a bomb." Black smoke rose from the car.

Most seriously injured was George Smith, admitted to Royal Jubilee Hospital with a fractured right shoulder and cut left ear, and shock.

Mrs. Carroll, 1711 Cedar Hill Road, was treated at Royal Jubilee for cuts and shock, then released.

TRANSFERRED

Sherman and Carroll were transferred from Royal Jubilee to HMCS Naden sick bay. AB Carroll remained in hospital with multiple lacerations in the head.

AB Sherman was treated for slight lacerations of the forehead and released.

SECOND FATALITY

It was the second fatal accident at the same corner in recent times. Mrs. Annie Mayne, 76, was killed in a collision there in 1960.

Witnesses said the Carroll car was travelling north on Fairfield Road when it collided near the centre of the intersection with the Smith car, driven east on Fairfield.

FELL FROM DOOR As both cars were swept northward on Foul Bay Road, Mrs. Smith tumbled from the passenger-side door.

Both cars were badly damaged. The Smith car came to a stop against the left curb.

BOUNDED LIKE BOMB

"It sounded like a bomb going off," said Mrs. E. A. McGowan, 319 Irving, who had just halted her car nearby.

Said Paul Holden, 10, 1510 Seabrook: "A lady fell out the door of a car. Part of the car seemed to go over her."

Mrs. Smith was taken to St. Joseph's Hospital and pronounced dead at 3:40 p.m.

Prisoners Threaten Suspect, 19

TORONTO (CP)—Police brought Gary McCorkeil, 19, into court separately from other prisoners yesterday and assigned him a cell by himself following reports that other prisoners were threatening to attack him.

McCorkeil is charged with capital murder in the slaying of two young boys Wednesday night.

Donald MacLeod, 3, and his playmate, Michael Aikman, 2, were found dead on the second floor of a furniture warehouse where McCorkeil works.

No Penalty for Skipper

'Book Closed' On Grounding

Captain of the B.C. government ferry Mv. Chinook will not be penalized for the vessel's unscheduled excursion onto the rocks of Snake Island as the month of Nanaimo Harbour April 5.

An announcement yesterday by the federal department of transport in Ottawa said a preliminary report on the incident placed blame squarely on the captain's shoulders but ruled that no formal inquiry will be held.

Monty Aldous, general manager of B.C. ferries, said last night the B.C. Toll Authority is taking no action against Capt. Roy Barry, master of the Chinook, who was reinstated the day after the grounding.

"The incident is now a closed book so far as the department is concerned," said an official.

Ten Men Missing After Boat Blast

SHELBURNE, N.S.—A 200-ton fishing boat with 18 men aboard exploded and burned 12 miles off the Nova Scotia coast early today.

Ten men are missing. The Robertson Third—a scallop dragger—left Shelburne shortly after midnight.

When 12 miles from the dock an explosion occurred in the engine room and the crew tried to stop the fire, but had to take to three lifeboats.

Before abandoning the 180-foot-long vessel, the crew fired flares which were seen on shore by commissioners at a navy base. Another fishing boat picked up one lifeboat with Captain Albert Myles and five others aboard. After two hours' search, the rescue boat discovered the second lifeboat with two men aboard, including Floyd Parks, the engineer. The search will continue at daylight.

Cancer Drama Research Taking Man to Edge Of Life Mysteries

By BON FOULTON and KEN MacTAGGART

"I have wasted 15 years of my life in cancer research. Until some fundamental discovery has solved the mystery of life, itself, our knowledge of cancer will not advance a single step."

Nobel laureate Paul Ehrlich said that, more than 50 years ago, when he abandoned cancer research and went on to produce The Magic Bullet (sulfanilamide) against syphilis.

Thousands of scientists today understand his bitterness but their frustration is not as acute because new knowledge of the human cell has led them to the "edge of the mystery of life, itself."

SECRET OF CANCER

Within and around that cell lies the secret of cancer.

Today's scientist also has money with which to buy research machinery beyond even Ehrlich's dreams. One centre alone (Sloan-Kettering) expects to spend $120,000,000 within a five-year period which began in April, 1960.

AVOID DUPLICATION

The centrifuge whirls in thousands of labs around the world, each lab in communication with the other to avoid duplication of research. Yet the cure for cancer eludes them and still more money is needed.

The Canadian Cancer Society, alone, supports 84 research projects (involving 108 scientists) and 36 research fellows. This year it will spend $1,513,000 on research and fellowships.

LONG ON BRAINS

Canada is short of funds but long on brains. Its scientists designed and built the first workable electron microscope, the first Cobalt bomb, concocted the first "soup" in which polio viruses for Salk vaccine were grown.

Some Canadian scientists shy from agencies which predict that great discoveries are just around the corner. But they are heartened by the example of Edward Jenner (1749-1823) who found a vaccine for smallpox even though he didn't know why it gave immunity.

Cancer nowadays is treated—successfully—by surgery, radiation, and a considerable number of drugs, chemicals and hormones.

It can only be treated suc-

Jung Unites Family

VANCOUVER (CP)—Douglas Jung, Progressive Conservative member of Parliament for Vancouver Centre, has reunited a 12-year-old Chinese boy with his parents after cutting through three years of red tape with a flying visit to Hong Kong.

Mr. Jung brought Chan Quan Lum to Vancouver with him to join his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Cuen Sai Chung, and two of his brothers. His parents had not seen Chan Quan for 10 years.

Mr. and Mrs. Chan arrived separately in Canada under false identities. Two sons were left with a foster parent in Hong Kong.

"Mr. Chan came to me three years ago, and I urged him to make a voluntary statement to regularize his status," Mr. Jung said.

Trial Flight Kills Three

TOULOUSE (Reuters)—A prototype of the twin-engine "Atlantic" reconnaissance plane crashed on a trial flight in southwest France Thursday night, killing its crew of three.

The plane, designed for reconnaissance and anti-submarine operations by NATO forces, was built by the French Bruegt Company.

He Wed Widow, Hid a Fortune

WASHINGTON (AP)—When Charles R. Goddard was 21, a 78-year-old widow gave him a small fortune for marrying her. Goddard kept the "marriage settlement" a secret for 40 years. Now, the tax court of the United States has ruled he doesn't have to pay income tax on the remains of what he says was a $300,000 settlement.

The story of Goddard, now 74, and the widow, Lucinda M. Treat, started in 1920. Court records relate this tale: Goddard was working his way through Yale law school by selling ladies' hosiery from door to door when he met Mrs. Treat, widow of a successful cattle dealer. She developed an interest in him and, according to court papers, offered him $300,000 to marry her. Part of the bargain was that the marriage settlement be kept secret.

Goddard hid the money, continued his studies and began to practice law in Hartford, Conn. His wife died in 1913 leaving two-thirds of her estate to her adult son and one-third—$1,500—to Goddard.

Goddard came to Washington to work, first for the interior department and then for the Bureau of Internal Revenue. He was married again in 1922 and his wife had two children before she died in 1945.

All these years Goddard's board, remained a secret. He even went into debt to buy property.

The secret was revealed by him in November of 1953. He was working as a $4,000-a-year employee of the bureau when the treasury department decided bureau employees had to file periodic financial statements.

Goddard listed his net worth as $351,394.11. Had he ever received an amount in excess of $5,000 by way of gift, bequest or legacy? "Yes . . . marriage settlement," answered Goddard.

The repercussions were swift and Goddard told all to bureau agents. Then a long court battle began, with the government claiming he had failed to pay $38,000 in income taxes for the three-year period of 1945-50 and Goddard's lawyers claiming that bank deposits of about $32,000 were left over from the settlement with Mrs. Treat.

In a ruling last week the court cleared Goddard of fraud. However, the court disagreed with Goddard on one point. The sum he named as the amount of the settlement "exceeds the limit of our credibility," it said.

The ruling therefore refers to the amount as "a considerable sum (over $100,000.)"

ALL ABOARD

With G. E. Mortimore

Made in Japan: A $500 stereophonic hi-fi set for $78.

So I was told yesterday by Petty Officer Larry Lamoreux, just arrived home from a 3½-month cruise to the Orient.

When I saw him, he was humping a bulky box containing his purchase along the jetty to a car.

That's progress. Soldiers and sailors used to go aboard and come back with Benares brassware (made in Birmingham). Now they come back with hi-fi sets.

Van Waiting

Some other treasures: Silks, precious stones (Capt. Victor Browne brought Mrs. Browne star sapphires from Ceylon).

Petty Officer Arthur Perkins, among others, lugged home carved teak chests. Stocker's moving van was waiting on the dock to haul the heavier stuff.

Waiting on the dock was a surprise: Two aunts visiting from England for six weeks, Miss Gertrude Reynolds and Miss E. Reynolds. P.O. Stocker didn't know they were there.

It's Pure Joy

For husbands and wives who are still in love with each other (as 99 per cent are, no doubt) homecoming is one of the few occasions of 24-carat pure joy.

You can see that, to look at them. You have to take a NEW YORK—Francis Cardinal Spellman has contributed $3,000 toward the $62,000 demanded by Fidel Castro for release of all the prisoners taken in last year's invasion at the Bay of Pigs.

Engine Failed

Overdue Yachtsman Surprised at Search

A yachtsman who was overdue at a Sidney boat house Wednesday night was surprised to learn he was the subject of an air search yesterday.

L. F. Dawes, 2290 Dolphin, was the victim of an outboard engine failure and anchored in Cordova Bay overnight.

"I borrowed a dinghy from a friend and took the motor in to get it fixed, then continued on my way," he said.

Your Good Health

There's Nothing Like 'Purest' Apple Is 100 Per Cent Apple

By JOSEPH MOLNER, MD

Dear Dr. Molner: I recently read that honey is the purest of all foods. Would it be detrimental to anyone suffering from phlebitis? Or hardening of the arteries? The article also stated that diabetes can take honey where they can't take sugar. Does this mean it is not fattening in itself?

—Mrs. O. N.

I get more than a bit tired of faddists claiming that this food or that is "purest." What does it mean? Nothing! A newly dog potato is 100 per cent pure potato. An apple is 100 per cent apple and an egg is all egg. They're all absolutely "pure" foods.

However, I can see no possible reason why honey should harm anyone with phlebitis, hardening arteries or anything else. It is a perfectly good food, containing a great deal of sugar.

The remark about diabetes however, is dangerous. Diabetes must keep their sugar intake low no matter what the source, and that includes the sugar in honey. Honey is just as fattening as anything else containing sugar, and it's loaded with it.

—Mrs. O. N.

Dear Dr. Molner: My husband is 55 and of average weight. He now has an awful lot of gas on his stomach around the heart. He has always drunk about 20 cups of coffee a day. I wonder if this could be causing it.—Mrs. W.

It could be that the coffee finally is catching up with him. That's pretty heavy coffee drinking. If he'd cut out coffee for a few weeks, it ought to give an indication of whether that's the trouble. (Drinking only caffeine-reduced types of coffee might help.)

If the trouble persists, I'd have the doctor check him over. It could be gall bladder, heart, or any of several common troubles, and some treatment now may make him more comfortable and avert greater discomfort in the future.

—Dr. W.

I doubt if a Sioux Indian ever had an ingrown toenail, because he never wore shoes. Nor have I noticed any trouble with ingrown fingernails. Why? Because an ingrown nail is simply one that has been under continued pressure so that, as it grew, it began to dig into the flesh instead of growing straight ahead as it should.

If we wore shoes on our hands, and walked on 'em, we'd develop a few cases of ingrown fingernails, too. Do pointed toes of shoes have an effect? Yes, if we try to keep the shoes both pointed and short.

Doors Now Open To Guide Dogs

EDMONTON (CP)—The Alberta cabinet has passed an order-in-council which will allow seeing-eye dogs to enter food stores with their blind masters. Animals of any kind previously were forbidden from entering stores under the terms of the Public Health Act.

Cancer Drama

genuinely if it is discovered early. The layman can help science and self in two ways: by seeing a doctor early and by giving money to research.

45,000 COMPOUNDS

What is he getting for his money now? Some 45,000 compounds a year are tested. One of these (methotrexate) cures one very rare form of cancer. In all, only about 20 drugs have shown encouraging results.

Research methods are weird and wonderful. Human adult skin is kept alive in lab dishes to study cell behavior. Malignant cells are grown in eggs and harvested to maintain a steady supply.

COW PANCREAS

One Montreal team has extracted an enzyme from the pancreas of cows. It retards the growth of certain cancers in mice.

At Harvard Medical School tiny cell structures called melanocytes (the average adult holds 2,000,000,000 of them) have been isolated.

OPENS DOOR

Their isolation opens the door to a study of the secrets of racial coloration, benign conditions like freckles and balding, and skin pigmentation.

Melanocytes are color factories producing melanin. Melanin shields some people from skin cancer which is rare among dark people and common in the light-skinned.

EVEN DEATH RAY

At Hahnemann Medical College in Pennsylvania a death ray four one hundred thousandths of an inch in diameter is used to destroy clusters of genes on a cell chromosome.

The ray destroys life without demolishing physical structures. From it, scientists hope to learn what has happened when white blood cells turn into rebels when leukemia occurs.

GOVERN FLOW

In Los Angeles, scientists are working on a biochemical hypothesis of the process by which adrenal glands govern the flow of hormones which help people to cope with stresses and strains.

Sex hormones are somehow involved in cancer of the male prostate and female breast. Cortisone-type stress hormones may play a role in leukemia.

FETAL LIVER

At the University of Kentucky injections of fetal liver frozen in banks have saved 50 per cent of mice given lethal doses of radiation. The experiments aim at a treatment for human leukemia by ultimately using massive radiation doses coupled with injections of human fetal liver cells.

Bone marrow cells manufacture blood. Injections of bone marrow, coupled with radiation, have been given leukemia sufferers. But the American Cancer Society said the treatment failed because the radiation doses weren't strong enough.

SUSCEPTIBILITY

"And it is debatable whether the bone marrow injections overcame much of the radiation effects."

In Toronto, scientists are studying hereditary factors which are known to play a part in cancer in man. They know susceptibility to some cancers (like multiple polyps of the colon) can be inherited; that inherited susceptibility is confined to cancer to a particular tissue area.

CANCER PRONE

In Toronto, too, immunology—the body's own machinery to resist disease—is being studied. Some people are known to be more cancer prone than others.

The American Cancer Society, which is also studying immunology, says: "This indicates the human body may not be passive to the presence of cancer an may have the capacity to fight back." It says, "the field bubbles with excitement."

HALF FOR RESEARCH

Almost half of the $3,519,000 the Canadian Cancer Society is asking for this year will be spent on research.

"Research is our hope chest which will some day help us to find the solution to cancer," Dr. Carlton Auger, president of the National Cancer Institute of Canada, says.

"And the more money and intelligent effort we can put into the chest now, the sooner that day may come."

who headed the appeal panel, said he upheld the appeal with reluctance and misgiving. Both he and Mr. Justice J. O. Wilson said that without government permission in the form of a fiat, the courts could not interfere with the Crown corporation.

ESTABLISHED NO RIGHT

The other assenting judge, Mr. Justice F. A. Sheppard, said, the power corporation had established no right to a receivership order.

Mr. Justice T. G. Norris and Mr. Justice C. W. Tysse dissented.

B.C. Power said it would not appeal the decision of the appeal court to the supreme court of Canada or seek a rehearing since trial of its main action was near.

PRIMITIVE REMEDY

The appeal judgment was the latest in a series of complicated actions stemming from the B.C. Electric takeover that saw B.C. Power win six court decisions on technical pre-trial issues.

Mr. Justice Davy in his judgment criticized legal remedies available for the actions of the legislature in the name of the crown as "primitive and quite inadequate." He made it clear that if the case had involved two private parties and not the crown he would have ruled differently but under present circumstances it was impossible to sustain the order.

LEGISLATURE IMMUNE

Mr. Justice Wilson wrote: "It seems clear to me that the order is, in effect, one which can only operate to protect the plaintiff (BCEP) not from the act of its adversaries, the electric company and the attorney-general, but from the acts of the legislature and I do not think that a court can enjoin a legislature no matter what opinion it may entertain of the proposed legislation."

KENTUCKY HOME

My Old Kentucky Home, referring to the home of Judge John Rowan, was written by Stephen Foster in 1852.

The Death Doctors:

Thirty men were pushed into the laboratory, one by one; an orderly seized their wrists while a doctor dropped a spot of liquid on each bare arm, just above the elbow. It was mustard gas.

In two months 150 prisoners were put through the torment of experiments like these, and out of every batch of thirty, seven or eight men died in agony.

For Red Cross Fund

$1,700 Still Needed

A total of $1,700 is needed to put the Red Cross fund drive over the top here.

The residential area canvass, which brings in 60 per cent of the campaign fund, went over its $39,000 total by $267, a spokesman said yesterday.

The business, industry, service and hotel divisions have not yet reached their quotas but officials are confident the drive will reach its $79,000 goal next week.

Amount collected so far is $77,211, or 97.7 per cent of the amount needed.

"We would appreciate it if anyone who was on holiday or was missed during the canvass would mail their donations to Red Cross House, 1046 Fort Street, or phone EV 6-6181 and we will call," a spokesman said.

these quick freezer tricks add appeal to every meal

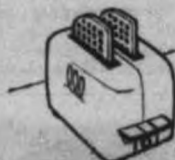

If you think a home freezer is just a means of cutting food costs — or saving shopping trips — or improving family nutrition, you're missing all the adventure of home freezing! Certainly it will help you do all these things, but the real magic of a home freezer is in the exciting ways you can use it to add variety while you save time in preparing every meal.

LOOK DOUBLE! IT'S HALF THE TROUBLE! Next time you make a meat loaf, casserole, stew or chili pot — in fact, any savoury mixed dish — remember, it's almost as easy to make two. Serve one now and store the other in the freezer for future reference. And you'll always be prepared for busy days or unexpected guests with a delicious, ready-to-heat dinner. Think of the hot-and-pan washing you'll save, too.

EVER SEEN SQUARE GRavy - OR EGG CUBES? That last-minute gravy-making chore can set the whole meal off schedule — so why not freeze up a stock of ready-to-warm gravy cubes with your next roast? Just pour surplus gravy into ice cube trays, freeze and pack the cubes in freezer bags. Same trick works beautifully with heart-warming home-made soups and soup stocks: wonderful when the weather turns suddenly chilly! Even eggs can be frozen in cubes — at a big saving if you buy them at low, seasonal prices.

HOW TO BRIGHTEN BREAKFASTS — Start the morning right with nourishing, huge-frozen fruits and juices — then follow up by warming pre-cooked frozen waffles in the toaster — or top off by warming home-baked frozen fruit muffins in the oven.

STOCKPILE SANDWICHES AND LUNCH BOX SPECIALS! If sandwich lunches are in constant demand in your home, a freezer can be a real time-saver. Make a big variety of sandwiches once a week — wrap them up, label and freeze. You can do the same with special hostess sandwiches, too, and store them days or weeks before the party. And don't forget lunch desserts: frozen individually wrapped servings of freshly-baked or leftover cake, bars or cookies, ready to pop into lunch boxes for a quick getaway in the morning.

FILL YOUR FREEZER WITH "HURRY-UP DINNERS" — Use leftover meat slices and vegetables arranged on freezer plates to make your own nutritious, ready-to-heat frozen TV dinners for evenings when you're in a rush. Then top the meal off with one of those delicious pies you baked in quantity when fruits and berries were selling at low, in-season prices.

Enjoy the fun of freezing—and if you need information, please feel free to call our Home Service Centre at any time for new freezer ideas. The number is EV 2-9261.

U.S. Watches Canadian Poll

By HAROLD MORRISON
Canadian Press Staff Writer
The United States has a big stake in Canada, not only in business investment but in joint defence and in pursuance of some important aspects of foreign policy on which the U.S. usually relies on Canada for support and co-operation.

Will Policy Gap Widen or Close Up?

Thus there is more than one rather uneasy and uncomfortable relations that have existed between the Kennedy and Diefenbaker administrations. In fact, one subject which President Kennedy explored when Canadian Ambassador Arnold Heeney recently called to say goodbye is the election and its possible outcome. Kennedy is reported to have gathered the impression, as echoed by the New York Times, that despite the preponderance of Progressive Conservative strength in the House of Commons, the outcome on June 18 may be close.

Knowledgeable elements of the Kennedy administration, as well as Congress, are aware that Canada and the U.S. do not see eye to eye on a lot of fronts, such as Cuba, nuclear testing, the storage of nuclear warheads in Canada, foreign trade policies, trade with Red China and how much foreign aid a country such as Canada should provide underdeveloped regions.

It is perhaps with the feeling in the U.S. administration that the U.S. is getting less and less co-operation from Canada in the pursuance of certain aspects of foreign policy, that U.S. Commerce Secretary Hodges remarked last month that Canadians "have no idea of joining the United States on anything."

Diplomats try to explain away the frictions but the frictions exist. Hodges said later he merely was referring to Canada's growing independence. Others in the administration privately wonder whether this independence would lead to some aspect of neutralism.

While the Kennedy government may not be taking bets on the outcome of the Canadian fight, it will be following the battle round by round—paying particular attention to how each party handles the issues that might reflect on the U.S. foreign position.

Conference Postponed

JUNEAU, Alaska (AP)—Gov. William Egan said yesterday he had been advised of the postponement of the annual Alaska-British Columbia-Yukon Conference, scheduled for May 17-18 at Whitehorse, Y.T., as a result of the Canadian general election.

No new date has been set.

Zorin Pulls Out All Stops To Get U.S. to Cancel Tests

GENEVA (AP)—The Russians launched an 11th-hour campaign Thursday to block projected United States atmospheric nuclear tests in the Pacific. Their manoeuvres may keep the 17-power disarmament conference in session through the Easter weekend.

Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister Valerian Zorin tried various procedural devices to get a Western promise to hold off the test series and warned:

"Fruitful negotiations on cessation of tests cannot be conducted along with the thunder of nuclear test explosions."

NOT EVEN RECESS

A similar sentiment was expressed in a statement from Moscow by the Soviet news agency Tass.

U.S. Ambassador Arthur Dean said the United States will not accept an unpolluted moratorium on testing under any circumstances—not even during the Easter recess.

NO SECOND SINGE

"We will not be burned twice by the same fire," he said, referring to the Soviet Union's violation of a gentlemen's agreement with a series of tests last fall.

Both Dean and British Minister of State Joseph Godber told Zorin the test series will go ahead unless the Soviet Union promptly accepts an internationally controlled test-ban treaty providing for compulsory on-site inspections. The tests, on Christmas and Johnston Islands in the Pacific, are expected to begin next week.

DELEGATES CLASH

Zorin, Dean and Godber clashed in more than five hours of acrimonious procedural haggling in a plenary session of the conference and a subsequent meeting of the three-nation test-ban subcommittee. The argument remained unresolved.

Delegates who had packed their bags in hope of leaving tonight for their Easter recess were notified there will be another plenary meeting today.

COMPROMISE

Zorin announced his acceptance of a compromise test-ban proposal submitted to the conference Monday by the eight middle-group nations.

The compromise proposal sought to link the Soviet national inspection principle with the Western demand for international control, but did not spell out how this could be done.

Both sides expressed agreement with the compromise, but interpreted it to fit their diametrically opposed basic positions.

Italian Soldiers Shot by Thousands

WARSAW (AP)—Polish investigators have found new evidence, including mass graves, that the Nazis starved or shot thousands of Italian soldiers on the Eastern Front during the last days of the Second World War, the newspaper Express Wieczorny reported.

Judge Michal Barciszewski, member of Poland's "commission for investigating Hitlerite crimes" is reported to have found a score of long, deep mass graves said to contain the bodies of about 10,000 Russian and Italian prisoners.

U.K. Hits Bottom Of Spud Sack

LONDON (CP)—Britain is down to her last 220,000 tons of potatoes and there seems little likelihood of buying imports from the usual sources before the delayed new crop is available.

Alarmed proprietors of the nation's fish- and-chips shops have urged that potatoes be shipped in from Canada and the United States. But the government has refused to lift the ban, imposed years ago to keep ring rot and spindle tuber out of the country.

At the rate the British devour potatoes—about 200 pounds a person a year—the supply should last about another three weeks, a spokesman said Thursday. But because of an unusually cold, wet spring the new crop will not be available until after mid-June.

Meanwhile prices continue to soar. This weekend they are expected to range between 10d and 4d a pound—about twice the price at this time last year.

Prime Ministers Meet With Macmillan Sept. 10

LONDON (CP)—Prime Minister Macmillan announced Thursday that the crucial meeting of Commonwealth prime ministers to discuss Britain's bid to join the European Common Market will open here Sept. 10. He coupled the announcement in the House of Commons with the renewed pledge that if Britain had to choose between the Commonwealth and the Common Market, "we would choose to remain with the Commonwealth."

FOLLOW ELECTION

The meeting will follow the Canadian general election June 18 and Macmillan's visit to Washington and Ottawa April 25 to May 3.

Macmillan told the House his fellow prime ministers will be given an up-to-date picture of Britain's negotiations with the European community and a preview of "what proposals, if any, we will put before the House of Commons."

In Ottawa, Prime Minister Diefenbaker expressed satisfac-

Moslems Aching For Revenge

ALGIERS (AP)—A Moslem mob marched on a police station Thursday, shouting threats to take it by storm as 15 persons—all but one of them Moslems—were killed in another day of terrorist action. Police finally succeeded in dispersing the mob and heavily-armed French troops sealed off the turbulent Moslem quarter of Belcourt in an effort to prevent a new outbreak. The European Secret Army is waging a bitter campaign of terrorist shootings in an effort to incite Moslems to mob action and torpedo the cease-fire. In recent days the Moslems have shown signs of breaking out against the discipline of their leaders, who have urged them to avoid retaliation.

Wishful Thinking

THERE IS A WIDESPREAD belief in this country that Britain's entry into the European Common Market need not necessarily jeopardize the Commonwealth itself nor her position in it.

However, such a view—optimistic as it is—runs contrary to the considered opinions of those in the most authoritative position to judge the effect such a union would have on the Commonwealth.

Professor Walter Hallstein, president of the Common Market Commission, has no hesitation in expressing his thoughts on the matter quite bluntly. In Washington last week he stated openly that he doubted whether the Commonwealth could survive if Britain joined the ECM.

Bold as Britain's decision was to seek membership he said, it "involved the possibility of a far-reaching commitment, and one which ran counter to many cherished habits and traditions."

On March 10, West Germany's Dr. Adenauer, one of the ECM's leading lights, declared that the Commonwealth could not exist in its present form if Britain became a member of the Common Market. In an interview with the French paper Le Monde, he said: "I do not think that the countries of the Commonwealth can in future remain linked with each other in a closed circle."

"That would mean such a complete modification of the structure of the European Economic Community (ECM) that the maintenance of the Commonwealth in its present form certainly would not be possible."

As long ago as November last year, Viscount Amory, British high commissioner to Canada, referred to the fears expressed of Britain's proposed entry by Canadian ministers. "Those anxieties," he said, "are not vague apprehensions without substance. The possible dangers are real ones, we agree."

Earlier, Mr. Reginald Maudling, now colonial secretary but then president of the Board of Trade, said: "Anything which destroys the trading relationships and conditions of the Commonwealth would have a bad effect on the political strength of the Commonwealth."

At the same time, Prime Minister R. G. Menzies of Australia told his Parliament: "Britain, as the centre of the Commonwealth, has in the past spoken for herself at Commonwealth conferences. After entering the new Europe with its common policies and institutions and rules, she could no longer speak with detachment. The Treaty of Rome cannot be approved and repudiated at the same time."

Perhaps the most comprehensive statement of the fears held by the majority of Commonwealth governments over Britain's proposed entry into the ECM was contained in the joint communique issued by the Commonwealth finance ministers at their last meeting.

"Indeed," the communique stated, this (Commonwealth) relationship might be so imperilled (by Britain's entry) as to weaken the cohesion of the Commonwealth as a whole and thus reduce its effectiveness as a world instrument for understanding, prosperity and peace."

This latter statement—so deliberately underplayed by the proponents of Britain's union with Europe—can only be placed in its rightful perspective when the fact is clearly recognized that it represents the convictions of senior cabinet ministers of Commonwealth governments which presumably have been kept informed by Britain of the full implications of her proposed membership in the ECM.

It would be pleasant indeed, to believe that the United Kingdom's entry into the Common Market would have little effect on the Commonwealth. But it is becoming increasingly evident that those who hold such beliefs are indulging in nothing but wishful thinking.

A Battle Line?

THE PECULIAR attraction the Liberal Party holds for former CCF MPs and MLAs seems to support Prime Minister Diefenbaker's contention that the forthcoming general election could well be fought on a straight issue of private enterprise versus socialism.

The swing to the Liberal Party, first by one-time CCF Ottawa House leader Hazen Argue and then by Mayor W. C. Moore of Courtenay, a former CCF member in the provincial legislature, may give rise to legitimate conjecture that the Grits' program holds more promise for professed socialists than does that of the New Democratic Party.

Whether this will give any advantage to the Liberal Party in the weeks of campaigning ahead must remain to be seen. What it may accomplish, however, is a sharper definition of the major battle lines—a move that probably would be much appreciated by the Canadian electorate in general.

Peace in Foul Bay

COUNCILLOR COX probably uttered the pertinent comment when he said the Foul Bay Road imbroglio was a lesson never to change anything in Oak Bay. Carried to its logical end of course this sentiment would block all progress in the municipality, including the high-rise apartments which council manages easily to reconcile.

But patently street names grow into the affections of the residents and the council, lacking the courage of its previous convictions, has bowed to the storm.

It would have been a pity to eliminate the historic "Foul Bay" nomenclature, albeit this roadway when in the vicinity of Lansdowne heights is certainly not in the Foul Bay area. A happy mean would have changed the name only from Oak Bay Avenue north, or from Cadboro Bay Road, and if proposed earlier might have avoided the rumpus.

The argument that a street with several names confuses the post office is none too weighty, since any good postman soon knows his district thoroughly. Even as it is Foul Bay Road where it continues past the college towards the new Gordon Head campus does so under a different name.

By the same token also the marine drive from Gonzales hill to the Oak Bay golf course embraces no less than three names in a short stretch of roadway, which would suggest that consistency should impel some consolidation.

Peace has been restored, however, a very desirable quality; now if Oak Bay council can persuade the mapmakers to give priority of nomenclature to Foul Bay itself all will be thoroughly well.

Thinking Aloud

... of shoes, and ships, and sailing men ...
BY TOM TAYLOR

IN the Legionary this month there is a picture of Canada's oldest veteran, an army service corps warrior of the long ago who is now 105 years of age.

Using a term familiar to battle-worn Legionary subscribers he is an old sweat.

In the modern age a veteran needn't be old, of course. Once an old soldier was someone bowed with age and, perhaps, laden down with medals; now he might simply be a former serviceman. Comparatively young in fact.

And why, anyway, an old sweat. If we mean by this the older veterans only, there is the suggestion that the younger sweat never perished during their war.

It is somewhat remarkable, I suppose, a point mentioned herein the other day, that never before in history were there so many ex-servicemen around. Even proportionately. More people occupy the earth than was the case 100 or 1,000 years ago, so if nations have wars with medals, they are bound to put more men in the field than Napoleon or Julius Caesar could lay hands on. Although these two captains managed to assemble some pretty big legions.

An interesting feature, too, is that this century has developed people who aren't too keen on going to war, which isn't surprising and I needn't mention why. Except perhaps for younger professionals looking for promotion—and don't let us shrink it war steps rank up sharply—active service isn't inviting.

I dare say it was different long ago; at least the history books would have you believe that tribes, clans, nations were always spilling for a fight.

Maybe it was just the kings and the captains who liked to throw the gauntlet at one another, and the plebes, willy nilly, had to follow suit. At least, however, the mandarins always were out there in front, so that's to their credit.

Anyway it is a fact that war veterans now inhabit the earth, so to speak. Especially younger veterans, although their heyday is passing, too. Already the young men of the present are those who were boys in the second war which, remember, is all of 17 years ago.

And they are neither old nor young sweats.

But why an old—meaning former—soldier should be called an old sweat is puzzling. If the connotation is that he sweat blood on active service, his perspiring days are over. (Although he may be sweating more now than he did then for the worries of peace can be no less pressing than those of war, even if of different kind.)

It is not polite in some circles to use the word sweat. I know, although you'll find it in the Bible, and it is a fine Middle English word of proved vintage. I remember how Gracie Fields brought herself up short with a jerk at Work Point campus when she saw the bluebloods sitting in the front row and substituted the word perspire.

Perspire doesn't have the right ring, however. Even if the emphasis on old is rather overdone it's preferable to be called an old sweat than an old perspirer.

Yet how rightly can you call a chap of perhaps only 36 summers an old sweat?

Lesson to U.S. Administration

The Preposterous Armada

By NORA BELOFF from Washington

IT is a year since the Americans launched their ill-fated armada against the Cuban beaches, a year in which they have been seeking other and less hampered ways of destroying Dr. Fidel Castro. A Communist blot in the Western Hemisphere is almost as disturbing to the Americans as a capitalist West Berlin to Eastern Europe. And as Secretary of State Dean Rusk recently said: "The Cuban story is not yet over."

The first round of the struggle is now the subject of a lively and perceptive book, "The Cuban Invasion, the Chronicle of a Disaster" (Ballantine Books, New York) by two American journalists, Tad Szulc of The New York Times and Karl Meyer of The Washington Post.

The train of events they describe is both poignant and preposterous.

In Washington there are still too many red faces and sealed lips to be able to get the whole story, but the book has added substantially to what was already on public record.

Even more to the authors' credit, addressing an American public to whom white is white and red is black, they have made a serious effort to be dis-passionate. They recall that the people shouting loudest against Castro's totalitarianism, were "stokally indifferent" about the atrocities of the Batista regime.

The book opens with the revelation: Castro is shown needing "a predatory foreign foe" to sustain patriotic enthusiasm—a role filled with alacrity by an American government hostile to his economic upheaval.

The authors, who met Castro before and after the events, still seem uncertain whether, as he subsequently claimed, he was a Communist all along or whether his doctrines developed in the process of his anti-American struggle.

They recall that the Communists originally refused to support his rebellion and took over leading posts only after they told a curious story of a night during his 1959 visit to Washington when, after dining with the then Vice-President Richard Nixon, he returned to the Cuban embassy and wrote up his ideas.

"He showed himself excited and volatile," according to those present he said he was worried about two threats to the Cuban revolution: that it would be discredited by mass executions of Communist infiltration. The authors comment: "Possibly his concern was genuine."

The Eisenhower administration is criticized in the book for its "prissy legalism" towards the Cuban revolution and for failing to grasp "the tremendous importance of the emotional ingredient that came with the pride in regained sovereignty and the elimination of graft and boodles."

Yet the book does not uphold the view sometimes expressed that the Kennedy administration simply inherited the invasion plan from its reactionary predecessors. The writers point out that when President Eisenhower first authorized the formation of exile cadres in March, 1960, "no one contemplated a massive one-shot invasion."

As late as October of that year, senior officers told the authors of plans for using the exile forces to support multiple guerrilla actions which would start inside Cuba. In fact no evidence is adduced to show that the former president would have authorized the invasion at all.

All the new president did inherit was what came to be known as "the disposal problem"—what to do with the 1,500 soldiers being trained in Guatemala and whom the Guatemalans wanted to get rid of.

A large part of the book is devoted to describing the details of "the surreal operation" mounted and managed by semi-autonomous agents of the Central Intelligence Agency.

The authors seem to think that the disaster might have been averted if the agency had leaned on left-wing anti-Communist Cubans instead of mixing in right-wing pro-Batista elements, although it is difficult to see how this would have overcome the basic defect of mounting what would inevitably have looked like a foreign assault on a smaller neighbor.

They reveal last-minute interference by Kennedy's aides to "democratize" the Cuban leadership but describe how, all through the action, the Cubans were treated as stooges.

The attack was launched in the name of a "revolutionary council" which was kept behind locked doors while it took place. Their war bulletins were issued by a Madison Avenue advertising agency. If the invading force had established itself, apparently the idea was to fly in the council, recognize it as legal government and have it call in American aid. To the outside world it would have looked very much like Kadar calling in the Russians in the 1956 Hungarian uprising.

In the final stages President Kennedy obviously exercised only remote control. He none the less overruled CIA and military proposals for giving American air cover to the invading force and he was still hesitating about the whole venture at a meeting of his principal advisers 10 days before D-Day.

The final debacle in the Bay of Pigs coincided as the authors say "by cruel circumstances" with a glittering White House ball. They give a graphic description of how the president was summoned from the dance floor to reject a final appeal by the CIA for aerial reinforcements to save their little army from disaster.

In refraining from using brute force—which would certainly have been applauded by most of the American public—the president showed wisdom and restraint. Victory would have been easy, but the sequel would have been indefinite enmity of the growing forces of nationalism throughout Latin America.

The authors say the new administration has learned its lesson: last year's mistakes will certainly not be repeated. The president has overruled the doctored-making process to ensure proper execution of authority; the CIA has been discredited in situ and power.

There have been radical changes in the personnel directing Latin American policies and these have shifted from being primarily against Castro to being actively for non-Communist reformers in the other republics.

The Kennedy administration will none the less preserve what one adviser called "a policy of unremitting hostility." Through economic and diplomatic boycotts it hopes its friends will do the same.

The policy of gradual strangulation has replaced the policy of the knockout blow; but Castro can still blame his troubles on "the predatory foreign foe"—just as when the story began.

Proud Scots

Fierce Mood

By CASSANDRA from London

I THINK the Scots secretly like the English because they enjoy deploring them. Most Scots feel themselves superior to Sassanachs. They are prouder of their nationality than Englishmen are.

A curious manifestation of the fierce mood of "Scotland-for-the-Scots" is the case of a chap with the magnificent name of McPherson McNab who was so inflamed, with patriotism that he recently removed himself from Edinburgh jail where he was temporarily detained at the English Queen's pleasure.

Before he escaped, McNab had a "vision" in his cell. He saw a man brandishing a claymore—a weapon highly recommended for disembowelling Englishmen.

"His eyes were blazing," said McPherson McNab, "and his voice shook with emotion as he told me: Take this, McNab! Set Scotland on fire once more!"

Then he heard a woman's voice commanding him: "When the snow has left the hills, McNab, you must claim your freedom."

He took the lady's advice and was over the wall in no time.

Mr. McNab then set about mobilizing a private army to "free Scotland from the scourge of Whitehall."

"For too long this country has been under tyranny and dictatorship," said McNab, "and I firmly believe it is my destiny to uphold the proud heritage which falls to every Scotsman, but, alas, too few realize it nowadays."

"I already have a small private army in the Borders, composed of sheep stealers and salmon poachers who are willing to follow me at a moment's notice in the cause of Home Rule."

Alas for McPherson McNab. He will not be able to set light to the heather for some time.

He was recaptured and the sheriff of Bonnie Prince Charlie and the Call of the Glens, promiscuously slapped another six months on McNab's sentence.

Unaffluent Society

I commented the other day on the freakish order of our society that makes it possible for a large family to get more money through state grants than the earnings of the breadwinner. Mother and the kids can be better off when father is out of work—or is prison.

Here is the other side of the picture. It is a letter from a mother who asks me not to publish her name.

"Dear Cassandra: I was interested in what you wrote about National Assistance. I am proud to say, although I have a nine-year-old son to bring up, I have never had a penny from the state—and I hope to God I never have to ask for anything.

"I have an income of £5 to keep the two of us on, and 20s of that has to go for coal and another 12s 6d for gas and light. My diet never varies. For 2s I make a big pan of soup that lasts my three days, and the meat I make it with does for my tea.

"My son won't stay to school dinners—he has to prepare his dinner while, fish, as he says it, and it costs me 2s 3d a day for that alone.

A Lean Time

"I belong to a clothing club and pay 3s a week to keep my son in shoes and trousers and make him look decent for school. Nobody knows my business, and I never tell anyone how I live—only my relatives know. It is a lean time, and I have known much better times in my life.

"One thing I am thankful for, we are in our own little house and I realize what a lot I've got to be thankful for, and I agree that National Assistance should not be abused.

"I believe in old people receiving it, but I think anyone who is able to work should do. Children are a parent's responsibility—no one else's. I've never asked for anything and I hope I never have to."

Someone said that most people live lives of quiet desperation.

They also lead lives, in an unaffluent society, at quiet desperation and considerable courage.

Today In History

By The Canadian Press

April 20, 1962 . . . Pontiac, the Ottawa Indian chief, who supported the French during the Seven Years' War, was murdered by a Peoria Indian near the present site of St. Louis 182 years ago today—in 1780. Pontiac made peace with the British in 1766, a move that caused him to lose his authority among the tribes.

1949—Chinese Communists shelled two British warships in the Yangtze River, killing 36 sailors.

Died Century Ago

They Loved Maggie

By JAMES E. NEHRITT

Maggie Suttie, who died nearly a century ago, will be remembered in Victoria this centennial year.

Little Maggie lost her parents in a shooting on the west coast of Vancouver Island in 1864. The wide-eyed frightened little Indian girl was forthwith adopted by Mrs. Joseph Denman, wife of the Admiral, whose flagship was HMS Suttie.

TO MEMORIES

In Pioneer Square, in the shadow of Christ Church Cathedral, is a monument to the memory of men of HMS Suttie, who died on this station, and to the memory of Maggie Suttie.

The winds and the rains and the snows and the sun of nearly a century have entirely obliterated the names of the sailors carved into the sandstone, and Maggie's name as well, and the monument has come to lean precariously.

TOOK INTEREST

Alfred H. W. Toome took an interest in the historically valuable old monument, and has persuaded the city to prop it up and make it safe.

But the name of the sailors are gone forever, and will now never be known, so careful have we been in the past about preserving our history.

Maggie's name, however, will be perpetuated, for municipal chapter, RODE has undertaken to donate a stone marker to be placed at the base of the monument.

It will bear the words from Dilapidated stone memorial to Maggie Suttie and men of HMS Suttie in Pioneer Square will soon be restored to an upright position.—(Colonist photo.)

the Colonist, Dec. 3, 1896: "In Memoriam—the officers and men belonging to HMS Suttie have contracted with Messrs. Swigert and Teague for the erection of a monument to the memory of those of their number who have departed this life since the ship arrived on this station.

The pedestal and slab will be of freestone, 16 feet high, and the names will be carved on the sides.

"The name of the little Indian girl—Maggie Suttie—who was captured during the Indian outbreak on the West Coast in 1864, and who afterwards died at sea, will be included in the list."

WITH HUSBAND

Mrs. Denman frequently travelled with her husband in his flagship. She was on board during the shooting on the west coast, and her heart melted in sympathy for the little girl left an orphan. She soothed her, outfitted her and dressed her in the latest fashion. She was christened Marguerite, but to sailors she was Maggie Suttie. To be petted and spoiled and showered with gifts every time they returned to their ship from shore-side liberty.

WAS CANOE

When Suttie reached Esquimalt with Maggie, the Colonist noted: "The Suttie had on board five large war canoes, taken from the rebellious tribes. Several more were destroyed."

Hearing of Maggie's death, a party of natives, enraged, came to Victoria: "The tribe of Indians at Clayquot Sound, to which Maggie Suttie, the little Indian orphan girl, who was adopted by Mrs. Denman—have arrived at Esquimalt and are greatly displeased at the death of the child. They demand a gift of a number of blankets to allay their wrath."

Killing Dog Put to Death

VANCOUVER (CP)—A German shepherd dog that attacked and killed 75-year-old Mrs. Emma Watson March 17 was put to death at a pound Wednesday. Mrs. Watson's daughter, Mrs. Grace Buttrick, said the dog had been constant companion in the family's Huron district home and the attack apparently came when Mrs. Watson fell on the dog and it panicked.

Memorial Arena to Ask City For Debt Loan of $15,000

City council will be asked to loan Memorial Arena Commission $15,000 so it can pay $14,183.08 it owes to the city, and have sufficient working capital besides.

The $14,183.08 represents the arena's profit for the 1939-41 year, comptroller-treasurer James Bramley reported to city finance committee yesterday.

"In previous years the Memorial Arena has had no difficulty in making this payment by Nov. 30 because it had profits in the six-month period after their year end to finance it.

"This is not the case this year, and for the nine-month period to Feb. 28, 1942, the Memorial Arena shows a loss of $1,448.62," Mr. Bramley reported.

Finance committee recommended the move to city council.

'Doukhobor Problem' a Hoax To Justify Violence Says Judge

NELSON, B.C. (CP)—A British Columbia Supreme Court judge said Thursday the "so-called Doukhobor problem" was a cruel hoax dreamed up by cunning criminals in the Sons of Freedom sect to justify their criminal actions.

And Mr. Justice Craig Munro said some of the advice apparently emanating from the Sons fraternal council was "bale."

He made the comments here as he sentenced Bill Babakoff, a member of the council to 12 years for bombing a railway track.

"Stop your criminal activities and start using some common sense and your problems will end," the justice said to Babakoff, charged in connection with the bombing of CPR tracks at Thrums in August, 1939.

The judge said the Freedomite's action showed "reckless disregard" for the lives of those who may have been riding in the train, due to pass the explosion point at the time of the bomb's detonation.

OTHERS SENTENCED

Mr. Justice Munro also sentenced four young men who survived a car explosion at Kinross Feb. 16 to 21 months in jail.

George Postnikov, 23, John Evdokimoff, 20, Bill Goodie, 20, and Peter F. Salikh, 20, had been charged with illegal possession of explosives after a bomb they were carrying discharged in their car. Harry Kootnikoff, 17, died in the explosion.

SMART ALEX

The justice said the four were "exhibitionists and inclined to be smart alexes."

He sentenced Sam Shakhoff to eight years for bombing the tomb of Peter Verigin, first Canadian Doukhobor leader, last July 29 and five years for illegal possession of explosives.

R. H. B. KER

Grieve said his section of the drive should be completed by that time.

Meanwhile, prominent city businessman R. H. B. Ker has accepted an appointment as head of the special names division of the drive.

In an acceptance speech, Mr. Ker told a meeting of business and civic leaders at the Union Club yesterday that the need for expanded hospital facilities in this area should be apparent to "all thinking Victorians."

This extremely important area of community life could not be ignored by any responsible citizens, said Mr. Ker. The general hospital, he continued, is one of the most important institutions in any community and in the final analysis the responsibility for the support and expansion of a general hospital falls upon the people served by it.

The drive for $350,000 needed for proposed extension and improvement of the hospital is expected to gain momentum as labor, special names and professional divisions begin reporting progress on their canvasses.

Settlement Offer Suggested In Fire Truck Crash Suits

A fatal crash involving a car and a city fire vehicle Jan. 27, 1961, ended in city hall yesterday when finance committee approved a suggested settlement.

City solicitor T. P. O'Grady recommended that the city agree to settle its counterclaim of $1,776.13 damages out of court on the basis of a payment of 87 1/2 per cent of the claim—$1,545.35.

It is understood the city will in turn, settle out of court, paying 12 1/2 per cent of the widow's claim of $40,000—$5,000.

William Mendes died from injuries suffered in the crash. He was driver of the car involved in the accident. His widow is Evelyn Grace Mendes, 1234 Broadway.

£ FOR £ YOU CAN'T BEAT ANGLIA!

£ for £ or $ for $ Anglia speaks a language all its own. In its British homeland, where more little cars are sold than anywhere else in the world, Anglia outsells every other car, regardless of size or make! Reasons? British craftsmanship is the main one. British engineers and designers developed Anglia to be the best car in its class. They did it so well Anglia is in a class by itself. Proof? Style for one thing. From gleaming front grille to raked-back roof, Anglia proves that a little car needn't be homely. Performance is another. In gruelling road rallies held around the world Anglia has developed a habit. It consistently scampers home with the winners (to the vast annoyance of bigger, more powerful cars, we might add!) And of course there's economy. If U.K. Joins Market

Disaster Feared

By HARRY YOUNG Colonist Business Editor

When Britain joins the European Common Market, Canada and Australia will be in the same boat, members of the Vancouver Island branch of the Canadian Manufacturers' Association were told last night at their annual general meeting in Victoria.

Duncan McPhee, Australian Trade Commissioner at Vancouver, warned that the boat was already beginning to leak, and that "if we do not bail together we shall start to sink."

MUST ACT NOW

Mr. McPhee urged that the Commonwealth countries in self-defence do something quickly to protect themselves against loss of vital markets if Britain joins the ECM.

"Canadians, New Zealanders and Australians must learn to live more and more out of one another's pockets," he advised. He said that the trade possibilities between these countries had not been properly explored and he was astonished at the ignorance and lack of knowledge which existed. "We could do a lot to help one another."

"We in Australia do not question Britain's right to join the ECM if it feels it has to do so, but we do feel that we have been sold down the stream by not being allowed to fight our own battles for participating in Britain's negotiations with the ECM countries."

WIPED OUT

The trade commissioner said that whole communities in Australia would be wiped out if the British market for their products were lost.

"We could not live against high tariff barriers in our agricultural products," he said. Mr. McPhee added that it was estimated Britain's entry into the ECM could cost his country $1,000,000 a day—over $350,000,000 a year.

Reds Link Laos

VIENTIANE, Laos (UPI)—Thousands of Chinese coolies have entered Laos to build the first highway linking the jungle kingdom with Red China, it was reported Thursday.

Chairman

E. W. Brinkworth of Crystal Spring Beverage Co. was elected last night as chairman of the Vancouver Island branch of the Canadian Manufacturers' Association, succeeding John A. G. Wallace. New vice-chairman is Frank Mack of Victoria Press Ltd.

Miss Canada

Jaycees Turn Hard Eye On Pageant

Junior Chamber of Commerce spokesmen yesterday promised to examine the status of the Miss Canada Pageant with "extreme care" before sending another Victoria girl to participate in the contest.

The comment came from Jaycee president A. T. Buchanan as uncertainties continued to cloud organization crises which precipitated the threatened abdication of Victoria's Nina Holden, the current Miss Canada.

WON'T EXPOSE

"I will be writing to expose any of our girls to that sort of thing if we can possibly prevent it," he said. "I will be writing to our Hamilton club within the next few days for a complete run-down on the new promoters, and we won't enter anyone in the 1963 Miss Canada Pageant unless we're absolutely satisfied that they're sound."

NEW PROMOTERS

The new promoters, Markey-Brooks Productions, sent Miss Holden home on a two-month holiday with pay while reorganization is completed.

First hint of discontent in the old Miss Canada Pageant organization came when Miss Holden complained she was "fed up with doing nothing" and threatened to resign unless matters could be set right.

BOUGHT CONTROL

Markey-Brooks Productions reportedly bought control of the financially defunct pageant and their reorganization plans convinced Miss Holden to withhold her threat to resign until the new firm can prepare a schedule of appearances for Miss Canada.

Law Change Demanded

City morals committee yesterday recommended the federal government be asked to amend the Criminal Code to prohibit the sale or distribution of salacious literature to juveniles.

The recommendation will be sent to a meeting of city council to be held April 26. It was drafted by city solicitor T. P. O'Grady following a conference with morals committee chairman, Ald. Lily Wilson.

The recommendation arose from public complaints that obscene literature was freely available for purchase on city book and magazine racks. Earlier, Mr. O'Grady had warned the committee there were difficulties in prosecuting under obscenity laws.

Peace Walk Saturday With Dr. Chisholm

The former director-general of the World Health Organization, Dr. Brock Chisholm, will march in a "Peace Walk" promoting the theme "No Nuclear Arms for Canada" with members of the Victoria and District Radiation Hazards Committee Saturday.

The march will begin from the corner of Quadra and Pandora at 1 p.m., continuing down Government, and will culminate at the legislative buildings.

Dr. Chisholm last night strongly supported the philosophy behind the peace walk as well as orderly demonstrations of a similar nature.

"This is a vitally important matter—perhaps the most important of all. The dangers to world peace must be brought to public attention," Dr. Chisholm said.

He also approved the "civil disobedience" approach taken in recent years by British philosopher Bertrand Russell.

"When a man of such worldwide repute risks jail for his convictions, it brings home very forcibly the strength of his beliefs and forces thinking people to pay attention."

Patrick Thomas, one of the organizers of the walk, said people from all age groups were expected to participate.

Grits' Medical Care Plan Claimed as Major Advance

OTTAWA (CP)—A proposed medical care plan described by Party Leader Pearson as a "major social advance" was unveiled yesterday by the Liberal party.

The program would provide doctor and diagnostic services free to large numbers of Canadians including children up to age 16, most retired people, and the unemployed.

For the rest of the population, there would be a "low" basic annual level above which medical expenses would be paid by the federal treasury.

A Liberal government would call a Dominion-provincial conference to discuss implementation of the plan.

There will also be the "closest consultation" with the medical profession, said Mr. Pearson in a statement.

If everyone joined the plan, the cost to the federal treasury would be "somewhat over $200,000,000 in the first year," said a pamphlet outlining the Liberal program.

"This will not mean any large burden on the economy, because people and corporations are paying most of the cost in one way and another now. In an expanding economy we can afford the extra costs for better health care."

Anyone who wishes to make his own arrangements would be free to do so.

For all others, the plan will cover doctor bills "above a low annual cost."

There will be no charge to anyone who does not go to a doctor.

"Liberal action will take fear out of health costs," said the pamphlet. "The maximum amount of doctor bills that anyone will be required to pay will be small; but it will be a safeguard against unreasonable demands for attention."

"How these payments are made will be arranged in agreement with the provinces. They will be designed to cover rather less than a half of the total cost of medical care."

The federal government would pay the rest of the cost from general revenue.

The plan outlined today is in line with resolutions adopted at the national Liberal convention in 1958—at which Mr. Pearson was chosen leader—and again at the party's national rally in 1961.

"Look, let me know 'ow much you CAN afford an' we'll 'ave a good laugh about it while we're waitin' for the police."

Dozen Plans Hang Fire

OTTAWA (CP)—More than a dozen items of announced government business died on the Commons agenda when Parliament packed its bags for the June 18 general election.

The still-born legislative plans included retirement of senators present and future at age 75, thus ending the present system of lifetime appointments.

Other items: Establishment of a five-man electoral boundaries commission.

Continuation of the special deal whereby Quebec takes over payment of federal university grant, financing them by a special corporation tax which Ottawa deducts from federal tax payments of Quebec corporations.

Vanier Sends House Home

By JAMES NELSON

QUEBEC (CP)—Governor-General Vanier formally dissolved Parliament for the June 18 general election Thursday.

Then Gen. Vanier approved an order-in-council setting the election date for Monday, June 18, as previously announced, and counter-signed three vice-regal proclamations.

These announced the dissolution of the old parliament, the issuance of writs for the election, and the convening of the new parliament July 23.

This date is only a formality and will doubtless be changed to some more convenient time later in the year, officials explained.

The Governor-General wrote "Approved, Georges Vanier" in heavy black ink on a letter signed in blue by Mr. Diefenbaker. It officially recom-

Kubek's Army Team To Play in Victoria

Fort Lewis Rangers, and army team of major and minor league stars led by Tony Kubek of New York Yankees, will play one and possibly two exhibition baseball games in Victoria.

Arrangements to bring the club here were completed in Vancouver yesterday by Gar Taylor and Wally Thomson of the Victoria and District Amateur Baseball Association.

JUNE 10

Rangers will definitely be here Sunday, June 10, to play an exhibition game against Victoria all-stars. Since the club has no games booked for the next two days, there is also a good chance that they will stay on and play a second game here — possibly against some of the Vancouver Mounties of the Pacific Coast Baseball League.

Kubek, star shortstop of the Yankees, is the big attraction on the Fort Lewis club, but the Rangers have plenty of other big names in their lineup.

BIG NAMES

Also due here are R. C. Stevens of Pittsburgh Pirates, Gene Leek and George Thomas of Los Angeles Angels, Deron

Johnson of Kansas City Athletics, Jim McAnany of Chicago White Sox, and Bob "Hawke" Taylor of Milwaukee Braves.

Ex-Mountie second-baseman Ray Webster and Verle Tiefenthaler, big winner for Tacoma Giants last year, are also on the club.

PART OF DRIVE

The move to bring in the Rangers is part of the Victoria and District Amateur Baseball Association's annual drive to build up the sport and its support in the city.

In the planning stage at the moment is a coaching clinic to be run here by members of the Mounties. Only permission from the parent Minnesota Twins stands in the way at the moment.

On the local front, the association has backed a move which will see each of the city's four senior teams take on a farm team in the Connie Mack League this year.

Old Series Hero Wins for Pirates

By THE CANADIAN PRESS

Pittsburgh Pirates got a home run from Bill Mazeroski, their 1960 world series hero, to continue their unbeaten way on top of the National League Thursday night.

Mazeroski's homer, his second in as many nights, came in the fourth inning with Don Lippert on base and gave the Bucs what turned out to be the win.

ning runs in a 6-3 victory over Philadelphia Phillies.

It was victory No. 8 for the Pirates without a loss and they needed it to stay ahead of St. Louis Cardinals, who won their seventh in a row by defeating the winless New York Mets 9-4.

In another night game, Los Anges Dodgers squeaked to a 4-3 victory over Cincinnati Reds after taking a 3-0 lead in the first two innings. Willie Davis and Duke Snider hit homers for the Dodgers and Sandy Koufax got credit for his second win against one loss.

In the only night action in the American League, Ralph Terry produced a six-hitter for his third straight victory as New York Yankees got a home run and a triple from Mickey Mantle to subdue Baltimore Orioles 3-1.

Ageless Stan Musial paced the Cardinals, driving in three runs with a couple of singles in their afternoon game.

In other National League action Houston Colts blanked Cubs 6-0 at Chicago and San Francisco edged Braves 7-6 at Milwaukee. In the American Red Sox beat Detroit Tigers 9-5 at Boston and Chicago White Sox swept a three-game series at Minneapolis by whipping Twins 10-3.

Musial's singles tied him with Babe Ruth for second place in the all-time standings in total bases at 5,793. Ty Cobb holds the record with 5,863.

Houston's victory over Cubs was lefty Dean Stone's second successive shutout over Chicago. Loser Don Cardwell fanned eight in eight innings but suffered his third defeat.

Leafs Rip Hawks, 8-4 To Lead Stanley Cup

By JACK SULLIVAN

Canadian Press Sports Editor

TORONTO (CP) — Toronto Maple Leafs whipped the muscle-less Chicago Black Hawks 8-4 Thursday night before an unusually noisy crowd of 14,129 in the fifth game of their best-of-seven Stanley Cup final.

The victory sent the Leafs ahead 3-2 in games to go in the second period. A rail-side spectator near the Hawk bench, he gave Chicago's Ab McDonald and Stan Mikita the razor-berry until Chicago's trainer Nick Garen lashed out a fist at him.

That was the most spirited action of the night as the players laid on few solid bodychecks, although Eddie Powers called 16 penalties, nine against the Hawks, for minor offences such as boarding, holding and tripping.

FAN GETS INTO ACT

One fan, F. C. Woolley of Toronto, even got in the act in the second period. A rail-side spectator near the Hawk bench, he gave Chicago's Ab McDonald and Stan Mikita the razor-berry until Chicago's trainer Nick Garen lashed out a fist at him.

Oksanen, 31-year-old Helsinki, was followed by another Finn and two Americans.

OUTDOORS

with Alec Merriman

This is the long holiday weekend. Get out and find the fish, so you can catch them next weekend and enter The Daily Colonist's King Fisherman Contest which starts next Saturday. An all-expenses-paid Canadian Pacific Airlines trip to Japan is the main prize this year.

The fish shouldn't be too hard to find, or catch. Northwest Bay has been hot for blues with many limit catches on bucktail files reported, and on the better days have averaged 10 blues each, some weighing over three pounds.

Morning have been best, but as the bay starts to fill with herring, afternoon and evening fishing will improve. The bluebacks have been hot also at Portlier Pass, off the Five Fingers and Flatops near Nanaimo, fishing with four or six ounces, flasher and minnow, and off the Chemainus end of Kuper Island.

Saanich Inlet is still fair for the blues, with big concentrations in Finlayson Arm, which have been finicky on the bite. They are still getting them on the bucktails, but they have also been getting them on minnow-teasers. Tod Inlet and along the wall to Willis Point is still a good bet for the bigger springs.

Good-sized blues are being taken off Dock Island at Sidney, Zero Rock off Ten-Mile Point and off Chatham Island in Oak Bay.

The big springs appear to be in Pedder Bay in increasing numbers. On Saturday Bob Lyon landed 28, 24 and 23 pounders, at the end of the kelp and in the race, all between 5 and 7 a.m.

Herb Handysides landed a 14-pounder in Sooke Harbor at the weekend and Bill Eddy landed an 18-pounder. Springs are reported jumping in good numbers in Sooke Harbor, which is full of herring. Andy Davidson believes some good spring salmon fishing could be had by spin-casting from skunk's (Billings) Spit, where Bill Pettie has been hooking into some nice sea-run cutthroats on minnows at the entrance to the Sooke River.

Recent hot weather should make the continually improving trout fishing bang-on this weekend, with the outlook bright for fly fishermen.

Last weekend saw the Cowichan River pretty well at its best with good numbers of steelhead, browns and cutthroats reported from pretty well all sections of the river, and especially in the riverbottom and above Skutz Falls. Dry fly fishermen have been getting a few browns.

Quamichan has been hot for trollers, and to fly fishermen who used nymph flies on a sinking line, retrieving in short jerks from the bottom.

Council Lake has been giving up a few 2 1/2 to 3-pounders to the patient fishermen who can relax on the bank and let their worm sit on the bottom until a fish comes along.

Shawnigan Lake was good on Saturday to both fly fishermen and gang trollers. Prospect is fair, and Wolfe Lake, near Council, has been fair, although the fish are not as big as those in council.

There are plenty of steelhead in Harris Creek and San Juan River, but with existing low and clear water only an expert could capture them.

Weddie and Fuller Lakes, off the Island Highway near the Chemainus cutoff, have been fair to good. Chemainus River has a few steelies in it. Douglas Lake has been good and should be ripe for fly fishing this weekend. Cowichan Lake has been good and Soomes Lake fair.

Bass and trout are being taken on trolled flatfish in Quennell Lake near Nanaimo.

Art Smith has been getting the odd brown from Cameron Lake.

Puntledge and Tsolum Rivers are giving up some fair steelhead and cutthroat fishing. Comox Lake has been fair. The Oyster, Quinsam and Salmon Rivers are still giving up steelhead and a few cutthroats.

Lower Campbell and Upper Campbell Lakes have been fair on troll and worm and that area is expected to attract a lot of angling pressure this weekend.

Sayward Forest lakes are all good bets.

The 1962 combination steelhead punchcard-fishing licences are now available and you must have them by May 1.

The gravel pit on Farhill Road in the Metchoin district has been posted following complaints by local residents that target practice has been a source of annoyance.

Shooters may use the Fish and Game Club range at Esquimalt Lagoon Sunday afternoons. Incidentally there will be a work party at that range, starting at 9:30 a.m. Sunday.

The Victoria Fish and Game Club will hold its Easter money trap shoot at the Goldstream grounds starting Sunday at noon.

Why Not? He's Going Great at 41

Stan Musial Plans One More Season

NEW YORK (UPI) — Stan (The Man) Musial admitted Thursday that this might be his last year as an active player, after all.

"I said when I signed my contract that this probable-ly would be my last season," the 20-year star of the St. Louis Cardinals explained. "I guess I stuttered on it a little bit but if I feel like I do now, why not play another year?" There are two reasons for this current change of opinion. One is the fine start Musial got off to this year, his best in five years. The other is the pleading-to-Musial manner in which manager Johnny Keane works him.

"When you get to be 41 years old, you just don't know how long you can go," Musial pondered as he stood beside the batting cage at the Polo Grounds. "And I'll be 42 by the time next season starts."

BIG ITEM

"But, as I said, if I feel as good as I do right now, I don't see any reason why I can't help the club. That's the big item."

Then there's the way Keane is handling the seven-time National League batting champion.

"There were times when I sat around too long and the best thing about this game is playing," said the fit, quick-speaking Musial. "But Keane works me a couple of weeks and then gives me a couple of days off, instead of playing me a couple of days on and a couple off. When you do it that way you lose your timing and you're in trouble."

BEST IMPORTANT

"Playing regularly and then resting," Musial continued, "I wasn't the least bit tired at the end of last season. That regular rest is important because when you get to my age and you get run down you don't snap back like those young fellows. The secret is to keep on an even keel and not let yourself get too tired."

The three-time most valuable player thinks, too, that a "sensible approach" to spring training has something to do with "my best start since 1957."

"I worked harder, earlier," he remembered. "Right after the first of the year I started going to a St. Louis gym three days a week. When you get to Florida for spring training you only have about 10 days to get in playing shape. Older fellows find those the toughest 10 days of the year. This time I was in good shape and made it easily in the 10 days because of that gymnasium work. I was ready to go."

Playing more regularly this spring in the exhibition games also put the old snap back in Stan's muscles and, at a rock-hard 181 pounds, the lean six-footer had only five pounds to shed before the season got under way.

NOT DISGUSTED

Musial, who has a lifetime batting average of .333, didn't feel disgusted and ready to

English Torpedo Soccer

TORONTO (CP)—Harold Ballard of Toronto said Thursday the five-team Eastern Canada Professional Soccer League will "fold" if the English Football League's ban on players from joining Canadian clubs during the summer layoff is enforced.

"This would end professional soccer in Canada," said Ballard, ECPL president.

"It looks as if they are trying to torpedo us and I hope they'll reconsider their ban because they haven't any conception of what they are doing to the game," he added in an interview. "I always thought the English Football League and other football associations in Europe were trying to promote soccer on a world-wide basis. This certainly isn't the way to go about it."

Ballard was commenting on a report from London Wednesday that said the English league had circulated its 52 member clubs saying if a player were given a free transfer to play for Canadian clubs in the summer he would not be re-registered the following season.

This would affect such stars as Stanley Matthews, England skipper Johnny Haynes and Tottenham Hotspur wing-half Danny Blanchflower. These, and many more, played in the ECPL in its initial season last year.

The ECPL was scheduled to start May 5.

quit because of his three poorest seasons in a row. He batted only .255 in 1959, .275 in 1960 and .288 in 1961.

"I just thought that if I wasn't going to hit, I'd only hurt the club and I'd step out on my own," he said. "Well, with this start, and this working formula, maybe I've got another year."

The man who holds 36 major league records, and sets another almost every time he goes to the plate, grinned widely.

Board Recommends 6.5-Per-Cent Hike

OTTAWA (CP) — A conciliation board report Thursday recommended a 6.5-per-cent wage increase to be spread in five stages over three years for 10,000 CNR trainmen.

MORE
The Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen (CLC) originally asked for an 18-per-cent pay increase. There was no counter-proposal from the CNR.

The majority report of the board, which sat for seven months studying the dispute, was signed by Judge J. B. Robinson of Haliburton, Ont., its chairman, and company nominee T. R. Melgren of Montreal.

Turbine Plant Gives Ship Extra Push

By JACK FRY

Hidden inside the weather-beaten hull of an English freighter loading lumber at Ogden Point docks is a propulsion plant so radical in design that most ship owners are scared to use it.

The single screw which churns the GTV (gas turbine vessel) Goodwood along at 10 to 12 knots is turned by a turbine run on hot exhaust gases of two free-piston diesel engines.

It is believed this is the first time a gas turbine vessel has ever visited a West Coast port.

STEAM REPLACED

Operation of the unusual engine was explained yesterday by Denis Shipley of Newcastle-on-Tyne, 34-year-old chief engineer of the 2,500-ton ship, which will be here until Saturday.

Thirteen years ago, when the Goodwood was built for running timber from the Baltic and Russia to England and nearby ports on the continent, she had a coal-fired steam engine like many other ships.

Three years ago, the steam engine was replaced by a Pasars gas turbine manufactured under licence in Britain to specifications of a French patent.

HIS BABY

Mr. Shipley, who has been at sea in the merchant marine since he was 21 years old, signed on as chief engineer 2 1/2 years ago. Since then, the temperamental but efficient power plant has been his baby.

Hot exhaust gases from two diesel engines, which have no crankshafts, are fed at 908 degrees Fahrenheit and 34 pounds pressure into a turbine connected by reduction gears to the propeller shaft.

OLD DESIGN

"The design is over 30 years old, but only in recent years have there been materials able to withstand the high temperatures," said the chief engineer.

There are only three British, one American, two Dutch and a few French navy ships powered by such gas turbines, he said. The American ship operates between the Atlantic seaboard and Europe.

EQUIPMENT SMALLER

GTV Goodwood is a London registry vessel of the William France, Fenwick Company. Her unusual power plant delivers 2,000 horsepower when both gasifiers are going.

The machinery uses less fuel than a steam turbine ves-

Pipes, Flowers To Greet Visitors

Victoria's official boat greeter, highland piper Lona Donaldson, will have a helper when boats arrive here this summer.

Clad in the costume of a flower girl of 1862 will be 15-year-old Risha Golby of 453 Quebec, who will greet visitors around the inner harbor and pass out flowers supplied by wholesale and retail merchants in the area.

Both piper and flower girl are sponsored by the Victoria Chamber of Commerce Tourist Industry Group.

FIRST OVERALL and FIRST IN CLASS Shell "4000" Car Rally '62

A Studebaker Lark driven by John Jones and Lou Lalonde of Toronto came FIRST over all cars in the gruelling 4,126 mile Shell Car Rally. Only LARK has won this vicious test of endurance two years in a row.

Competing against cars representing every major manufacturer in the world, the handsome Lark once again proved its reliability. Other cars faltered and broke up on rough, rutted roads. Too fragile suspension systems gave up—too little road clearance created havoc, too tiny engines balked and died. The '62 Lark carried on, eagerly grappling with adverse road conditions and terrible weather. The Lark swept across the prairies, soared over mountain ranges, mastered speed trials with ease and matched the driver's commands with race car handling. For the second year in a row the '62 Lark has won, beating all comers in the world's longest, most gruelling rally.

JOHNNY JONES Navigator

What LARK'S Victory Means to YOU

It means you can be sure the Lark is everything it is claimed to be... fast, dependable, economical, comfortable, sure-footed. Other manufacturers make these claims. Lark proves them!

Confident and comfortable all the way

"The Lark really handles," says Lou Lalonde, winning driver. "I have never been on worse roads—other cars were bogged right down to their doors in mud yet the Lark, with its fantastic manoeuvrability, powered through the muck and around the stalled cars like a broken-field runner with the goal in sight."

Johnny Jones, the man with the maps and computers said, "The Lark is really a comfortable car." "Other navigators looked like Mexican Jumping Beans on those rough roads—didn't bother me at all." "This comfort factor means a lot when you're in a car for as long as 18 hours... helped us stay fresh and alert."

The features that have proved Lark the unbeatable, long distance Rally champion are the very features you want in your personal car. A rugged, powerful engine, superb handling, sensible road clearance, positive braking, amazing economy and more interior room and comfort than any other domestic, family car.

Go to your Studebaker Dealer now. Drive the car that has decisively beaten all other makes and models. Buy a Lark and be assured your car will be the same as the one that won the Rally, won the "Car of the Year" Award, and is winning thousands of new friends and admirers across Canada.

Why not test drive the '62 Lark and form your own opinion? Tonight!

That Was No Lady...

WATFORD, England—John Antwis and the girl he promised to marry were house-hunting when they knocked at a door. Suddenly, Antwis whispered to his fiancée, "Let's get out of here."
The woman who answered the door was Antwis' wife, whom they had run into accidentally.
Antwis, a father of four, was fined $70 for signing a false notice of marriage.

LONDON—Home Secretary R. A. Butler has announced that the British government will begin controlling immigration from Commonwealth countries July 1.

Names in News

RENSSELAER, Ind.—There are a dozen embarrassed jurors in Tippecanoe County. Richard Smith, 24, whom they acquitted of burglary charges last week, has admitted he was guilty.

OTTAWA—Successful minor surgery following attacks of shingles and Bell's palsy has been carried out on Agriculture Minister Alvin Hamilton, who is expected to convalesce for 10 to 12 days before hitting the election campaign trail.

LONDON—Two wealthy London businessmen, millionaire financier Alfred John Guss, 50, and company director Bernard Young, 41, were charged with living wholly or partly on the earnings of prostitution at various times between 1959 and 1961.

SANTA MONICA, Calif.—Actress Natalie Wood filed a divorce suit Tuesday against actor Robert Wagner, her husband of 3½ years. Her complaint charged cruelty.

PARIS—Jacques Charrier, estranged husband of Brigitte Bardot, finally has been released from the French army on medical grounds.

HAVANA—Soviet government economist Yuri Aljanov arrived to negotiate a new 300-million- peso trade barter pact with Cuba. He said Russia would donate a 400-bed hospital to Cuba.

CHICAGO—Mrs. Ethel Kroc, 59, was granted a divorce from her husband, Raymond, 59, millionaire head of the McDonald hamburger chain, which operates in 27 states. She will receive the couple's $100,000 home, $30,000 a year alimony and a $50,000 insurance policy. They had been married 40 years.

BICESTER, England—Pte. Peter Stewart, 19, was sentenced to 84 days in the stockade by a military court for striking his sergeant-major. His weapon: the sergeant-major's swagger stick.

SEOUL, Korea—Charges of peddling opium were quickly dismissed by Judge Seungmoo Kang when the defendant, Mrs. Ikja Kim, 22, gave birth to a son in the courtroom. Prosecutor, who had demanded a one-year sentence, instead gave her $2.22 to buy some food.

T. EATON CO. LIMITED

Just a Figure of Speech

The city's major survey to plot color combinations to revitalize the downtown area could make Victoria look like a million dollars, but it won't cost anything like that.

Ald. A. W. Toome, who announced the survey, said this in answer to criticism by ratepayers who felt the description "million-dollar look" meant it would cost them $1,000,000.

"The only cost to be borne by ratepayers will be the time spent on the work by city hall staff," Ald. Toome said. Once the plan is prepared it will be available to downtown property owners without charge, but they will have to buy their own paint to improve their buildings.

"All the city is providing is the plan itself. It is up to the property owners to make use of it."

Ships Back from Orient

Sailors Roasted, Froze On 25,000-Mile Cruise

By G. E. MORTIMORE

Three ships of the Second Canadian Escort Squadron came home to Esquimalt yesterday after a 25,000-mile cruise that took them from snow to tropical heat. Destroyer-escorts Assiniboine, Ottawa and Margaree, bringing back 700 officers and men from the Orient, glided past Duntze Head in bright sunshine while HMCS Naden band played.

A many-colored throng of wives, children and girl friends in summer dresses crowded against the barriers on Jetty A. HMCS Dockyard, to welcome home their men after the longest peacetime cruise in Pacific Coast history.

The three $27,000,000 submarine-killer ships had been away for 3½ months on a journey that took them as far east as Colombo, Singapore and Bangkok, and as far north as Adak in the Aleutians, their last port of call.

TWO EXERCISES

During the 105-day journey the RCN ships joined American and Commonwealth vessels in two war exercises.

They also showed the Canadian flag in ports of the Far East where no Canadian war ship had ever called before.

1,800 PEOPLE

Women and children began arriving at the dockyard gate as early as 8.30 a.m. yesterday. By the time the master of the leading ship of the squadron, HMCS Assiniboine, appeared above the rocks at Duntze Head, 1,800 people had gathered on the Jetty.

The long white "paying-off pennant" fluttered from Assiniboine's masthead — meaning the ship is going to pay off her crew and go in for refit.

EMBRACED HUSBANDS
Women, some carrying babies or trailing children, filed up the gang plank and embraced their husbands among Chinese-lettered card board boxes containing souvenirs brought home from Hong Kong and Japan.

Said Capt. Victor Brown, officer commanding the Assiniboine and the squadron: "The ships and men acquitted themselves very well, and we learned a great deal from the exercises in which we took part."

MAJOR WAR GAME

In the first major war game near the Hawaiian Islands, in January, the squadron joined ships of the United States First Fleet, including an aircraft carrier, the USS Bennington, and some submarines.

For "Exercise Jet 62," the Canadian ships worked with 50 other ships of Commonwealth nations (including two carriers and two destroyers) in elaborate fights and pursuits across the Indian Ocean through the month of March. The exercise included nuclear war training.

CANADIAN GRAVES

At Hong Kong, 300 Canadian sailors marched to lay a wreath on Canadian war graves. Capt. Brown was one of 300 "Ladpoles" who were dunked by King Neptune when they crossed the Equator.

MALAYAN WELCOME

Most enthusiastic welcome in Malaya, where heads of government appeared in full regalia.

In Ceylon, outside temperatures reached 105 degrees, engine-room temperatures, 120 degrees.

Banks Open Saturday

Greater Victoria banks will be closed today and Saturday from 9 a.m. to 11 a.m.

Only Thought In Long Fall 'Dear God...'

By TED PULFORD

The platform upon which you are working, 80 feet above the pavement, creaks under a sudden strain but you don't hear it.

There is a perch, the wood falls away from beneath your feet, and for a tiny particle of an instant your body hangs, weightless and without support, in space.

And then you fall. Unless a miracle intervenes, you will be dead in three seconds. In those crowded, dreadful last moments, what do you think of?

How do you feel? David Schellenberg, 374 Bray, can tell you.

Remembering the eight-story plunge that should have killed him isn't a comfortable experience even yet, though the accident happened more than three weeks ago.

Interviewed last night in St. Joseph's Hospital, where he is recovering from injuries received in a fall from 80 feet up on a high-rise apartment project, Mr. Schellenberg tried to sort out his memories.

"I only had time to realize I was falling, then to think, 'Dear God, is it now?' and then there was nothing."

Memories of the few minutes prior to his fall haven't yet returned but Mr. Schellenberg recalls he was removing plumbing equipment from the hoist when it happened.

He's had ample time to think

DAVID SCHELLENBERG ... then nothing

the accident ever since he came to the hospital, however, and is sure that God was watching over him.

"I wouldn't have been here, otherwise, it's as simple as that."

Had the 37-year-old plumber been any less than the sound physical specimen he was, it is likely he wouldn't have lived to remember anything.

'It Really Paid Off'

"I've always looked after myself and eaten good food. I guess it really paid off."

Besides a broken jaw and severe damage to facial bones, Mr. Schellenberg suffered broken bones in both arms, a broken right leg and right thigh.

His wife of seven years clung to his hand during the entire interview. "It's been wonderful how quickly David has come around," she said. "I think the doctors will let me bring the children down on Sunday."

After he had worked steadily for several years without missing a single day, the accident caught the young couple and their three children unaware.

"I never realized before how wonderful friends are," he said. His comrades in the naval reserve, learning of the accident, turned up with offers to dig the garden, wash windows and even teach Mrs. Schellenberg how to drive the family car.

Holiday Sees Hangover Of British in Victoria

NOTEBOOK

AS OTHERS SEE US:

Latest issue of "Holiday" contains a dandy piece on the Pacific Northwest.

Victoria is dismissed in a couple of paragraphs but it makes interesting reading.

Writer Colville Eastfield (who lives near San Francisco) sees B.C. as ramshackle and poor, a desolate frontier comprising elements of rough language and rough work as well as curious hangovers from strait-laced British 19th century culture.

About Victoria he says: "This hangover is most evident in Victoria, the provincial capital and garden spot. Once traffic there was directed by policemen in bobby uniforms and white gloves but now the British savior — at one time more British than Britain itself — has receded, though some of it remains. Retired civil servants still keep neat homes with flagpoles and neat dooryards neatly bordered with tulips and hollyhocks and given such names as Gibraltar. And in the Crystal Garden, a war museum and swimming bath, one can have afternoon tea (crumpet, toast, strawberry jam, cake and tea) on a wider table under a pointed palm overlooking the long gymnasium swimming pool under a high glass roof...."

The piece goes on for a few more lines about Mungo MacFarlane and Henry Hunt carving those totem poles, then says: "And in another part of town stands the shiny new department store — all glass show windows and neon-lit lights — of the Hudson's Bay Company (Ed. note—nearly 50 years old), selling women's wear and slacks and shoes and scarcely a fur."

Well, anyway, it's publicity.

THE THINGS THEY SAY:

Oak Bay council was meeting in a committee room the other night when Com. Fred Hewson, who lives at 723 University Street, recently renewed his membership.

Bunny Outfoxed

Easter bunny was beaten to the draw by Kim, eight-month-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gary Rowe of 1766 Bay. Chubby cherub decided all those candy eggs looked too good to wait until Sunday. — (William Boucher photo.)

More Funds Needed

Lodging Bureau Fears Closure

Expo-Lodging's province-wide reservations network will be out of money — and out of business — within 30 days unless funds are found to feed the organization's mushrooming needs.

J. B. Corbett, chairman of Expo-Lodging for B.C. and managing director of the B.C. Hotels Association, yesterday laid responsibility for picking up the tab in the lap of the provincial government.

ASSUREMENT PAID
"Every member hotel in B.C. has already paid an assessment of $2 a room for Expo's services," he said, "and we cannot ask our people to assume much more of the burden."

Pointing out that hotel and motel operators receive only 22 per cent of the tourist dollar — with the other 78 per cent going to general business — he urged that the cost load be more evenly distributed.

Earlier appeals to the B.C. government travel bureau resulted in a grant of $2,500 to the Victoria Expo-Lodging bureau.

A previous meeting of the committee recommended that Mayor R. B. Wilson, Ald. Geoffrey Edgelow and Ald. Michael Griffin spoke strongly in favor of making the grant. The item was referred back to the finance committee meeting yesterday.

Just in Time

A family of bunnies will arrive in Beacon Hill Park in time for Easter.

The new additions to the park's animals will be housed in the aviary building across the stone bridge by Goodacre Lake.

City Grant Favored For Expo

City finance committee yesterday reversed its stand and recommended that city council make a $2,553 donation to the Victoria Expo-Lodging bureau. A previous meeting of the committee recommended that Mayor R. B. Wilson, Ald. Geoffrey Edgelow and Ald. Michael Griffin spoke strongly in favor of making the grant. The item was referred back to the finance committee meeting yesterday.

THE THINGS WE HEAR:
Victoria Symphony officials are already doing a little private shuffling over the May 14 concert by Victor Borge. Apparently the experts have reported the acoustics in Esquimalt Arena are little less than shocking.

THE POLITICAL POT:
Remember that Esquimalt-Saanich federal by-election last year when grinning porters of NDP's Glen Macdonald and the Socred's George Hahn continued to leer down from telephone poles, trees and the blue months after the vote was held? This year NDP's Geoff Macdonald is prepared to do without campaign posters plastered up throughout the district — if his opponents will follow suit. It's the best suggestion we've heard yet.... City Liberal leader Ray Purves, who has been suffering a politician's nightmare — he lost his voice.... The NDP claims its most senior member in all of Canada is 85-year-old William Rowles, who lives at 723 University Street, recently renewed his membership.

Busy Month

Sharp Drop In Jobless

Summer hiring has cut deep into the number of registered unemployed in Greater Victoria, the national employment office reported yesterday.

Since the first of the month, 514 job placements have been made through the Victoria office and the number of persons still registered for jobs is now 3,800.

Greatest activity is in the men's unit, where 330 jobs have been filled, bringing the number of registered job seekers down to 2,140, a drop of better than 1,000 from last April's figure.

Employment for women is supposed to pick up within the next few weeks. Most of the job offers will be for hotel room maids and waitresses and because of the shortage of properly qualified workers in this field, a second vocational course is scheduled to start April 30, a spokesman for the NES said.

Drugs Charge Admitted By City Man

Chu Poy, 67, 321 Flagg, pleaded guilty in magistrate's court yesterday to possessing narcotics for the purpose of trafficking.

Magistrate D. C. Ashby remanded him until April 26 for sentence. Royal Canadian Mounted Police arrested Chu Poy aboard a government ferry bound from Tsawwassen to Sidney, at 9 a.m. April 17.

They said he had 100 capsules of heroin in his possession. An addict needs anywhere from one to 20 capsules a day, depending on the strength of his habit.

Price to the addict runs from $6 to $10 a capsule.

Smashup Hurts Man

COURTENAY — A Campbell River man was taken to Cumberland Hospital with undetermined injuries after a three-car smashup on the Island Highway last night at Union Bay, 10 miles south of here.

Police said the man's car struck two parked cars and landed them down an embankment. His own car flipped over on the highway, blocking traffic.

HMCS Fraser Will Hold Open House Over Easter

As part of a plan to show the public the ins and outs of the Canadian Navy ships this summer HMCS Fraser will hold open house at the Canadian Pacific Jetty in the Inner Harbor from 12.30 to 4.15 p.m. today through Monday.

Cameras are forbidden for security reasons. Entrance to the Jetty is at the junction of Belville and Oswego Streets. Also to go on view during the summer will be frigates from the Fourth Canadian Escort Squadron, minesweepers from the Second Canadian Minesweeper Squadron and the submarine HMCS Oribelle.

HMCS Fraser is from the Second Canadian Escort Squadron.

Your Problems

By Ann Landers

Dear Ann: I'm a woman in my 30s and have been separated from my husband for four years. (No children.) A divorce is pending, but my husband is an ornery pole cat and he's doing everything in his power to slow things down in the hope I'll get discouraged and give up.

My family feels it is wrong for me to go out with single men. They say it doesn't look nice. I say a woman whose divorce is pending is not married and she should accept dates if she wants to.

I'm a moral person and am not doing anything wrong. All I want is good company. Sweating out a divorce is depressing enough without living like a recluse. Please give me your usual broadminded advice so my family will get off my back.—FEELING VERY SINGLE.

Dear Feeling Very Single: Sorry, Toots, you're still plenty married. A woman who values her reputation waits until she is legally unwound before she begins to step around.

Dear Ann Landers: Our son who is 16 had some buddies over last Sunday afternoon. I smelled a peculiar odor—like a burning inner tube. It seemed to be coming from the recreation room where the boys were, so I went down to check.

I was shocked to see three of the 16-year-olds (my son was not one of them) smoking cigars. One kid looked a little blue around the gills.

I ordered the boys to put out the cigars at once. They seemed very embarrassed, put out the cigars and left shortly after.

My son is furious with me. He says the parents of these kids know they smoke cigars once in a while and don't mind. He further expressed the opinion that it is not my place to tell other people's kids what they can or cannot do. What do you say?—MRS. DICTATOR.

Dear Mrs. I say you are right, Mother. If these 15-year-old kids are smoking cigars with knowledge of their parents, let them smoke in their own homes. You not only have the right—but the responsibility—to decide what will be permitted in your home.

Dear Ann Landers: You're nuts. Your advice to the 29-year-old bachelor to "marry the girl—she's a gem" was ridiculous.

This 24-year-old dame admitted she was looking for security. She wanted to know what the guy had in the bank, what his credit rating was, and if he had any bad debts. As for her credentials, she was bright, attractive, an excellent cook, housekeeper and laundress, but she wouldn't let him move into her place and prove it. Well, bully for her.

No man in his right mind would marry a woman so concerned with his financial status. You love a person, not a credit rating. Such a cold, mercenary female would not be a warm, loving companion. She's just an adding machine.—MPLS.

Dear MPLS: People get married for dumber reasons than Miss Adding Machine of 1962—and I hear from them all the time.

The women who write complain because the Great Lover or The Swell Dancer, is irresponsible, undependable and often alcoholic. The men who write complain because the Dresden doll can't cook, has no conception of how to handle money and is a general slob.

A woman who is warm and loving puts some of her warmth and love into making a house a home. A man who really cares gives his family security. So don't try to sell me on that claptrap about loving a person and not his credit rating. Often a credit rating is a pretty good clue to other things.

Confidential to MUST KNOW: Unless your girl friend is a doctor I wouldn't take her medical advice. Go to your family physician at once. Your peace of mind is worth something, isn't it?

SPCA The regular meeting of the Ladies' Auxiliary to the SPCA will be held on Tuesday, April 24 at 2:30 p.m. at the YMCA, 1203 Blanshard Street. Members please note change of meeting place.

Doctors Suggest:

Start Baby Right On Low Fat Diet

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—A baby's first meal should start him on a diet aimed at preventing a heart attack years later, two doctors suggest.

That means changing the type of fats in his milk, and later on in his solid foods, they said.

The idea: Keep him from developing high amounts of cholesterol and other blood fats blamed for clogging arteries and bringing on heart attacks and strokes.

LEVEL RISES

Babies are born with low levels of cholesterol in their blood, said Dr. Laurence Kinsell of Oakland, Calif., and Dr. Herbert Pollack of New York City.

But it rises as they grow older if they eat the typical foods high in so-called saturated fats, including dairy fats, they said.

CHANGE URGED

The American Heart Association has urged a change in diet for adults. It recommends cutting down on the customary intake of saturated fats—the kind which usually are solid at room temperature—and increasing the intake of unsaturated fats.

Jellied Easter eggs, nestled in cole slaw, add a festive garnish to a ham, dressed up for Easter in a sparkling glaze.

Easter Ham

Glaze Adds Festive Touch

A glazed ham is to Easter what turkey is to Christmas. As decorative as it is good to eat, a ham, garnished with jellied Easter eggs, is an attractive centre for a buffet spread, and is as popular with children as it is with adults.

Glazes, which make the ham look so much more appetizing, also look difficult to make. When marmajel is used as the base, however, any housewife can glaze a ham which looks just as professional as the work of a master chef. A tantalizing mixture of mustard, brown sugar and orange juice, blended with marmajel, the glaze complements the pungent taste of Easter ham.

Jellied Easter eggs are pretty to look at and fun to make. The children will probably want to help in the preparation. First, a hole is pierced in one end of the egg, and the egg is shaken out. Then the empty shell is filled with the jelly mixture. Eggs are placed back in their egg cartons, while the jelly sets. Peel off the eggshell and there are perfectly shaped Easter eggs which, when nestled in a bed of crisp cole slaw, add a party touch to any Easter dinner.

MARMA-JEL HAM GLAZE
Three-quarter cup brown sugar; 1/2 cup Grapefruit-Pineapple Marmajel; 1 tsp. dry mustard; 1/4 cup orange juice.

Mix all ingredients thoroughly. Remove ham from oven 1/2 hour before baking is completed and pour fat drippings from pan.
If desired, score ham fat, making cuts 1/4 inch deep. Spoon glaze over ham. Continue baking at 350° F. for 30 minutes or until well glazed.

JELLIED EASTER EGGS
One 3-oz. pkg. Grapefruit-Pineapple Jelly Dessert; 1 cup boiling water; 1/4 cup pineapple juice; 1/4 cup crushed pineapple, drained; 5 eggs.

Dissolve jelly dessert in boiling water. Add pineapple juice and allow to partially set. Stir in crushed pineapple.
Pierce end of 5 eggs with a skewer making a hole 1/4 inch in diameter. Shake out contents of eggs. (Contents may be used for baking or for scrambled eggs.) Rinse out egg-

CONFIDENTIALLY YOURS

—by Byrne Hope Sanders

MONTREAL, April 19th—Do you need new things for the house or cottage... new drapes, perhaps... new power mower or garden furniture... a new boat? No matter what you want, you can repay your loan in finance to the BANK OF MONTREAL. Ask the people at your neighbourhood branch about the B of M Family Finance Plan which allows you to buy the things you need right now with a single, low-cost, life-insured loan. You can repay your loan in convenient monthly instalments tailored to your income. A B of M Family Finance Plan loan may exactly fit all your credit requirements! Why not see the B of M soon?

STILL THE ONLY WAY to get clothes really white is to use RECKITT'S BLUE. It is now available in convenient, modern powder form, for use in both semi-automatic and fully-automatic washing machines! It comes in a handy package of six envelopes. You simply add the contents of one envelope to your wash at the same time as your soap. Inexpensive and easy to use, Reckitt's Blue actually helps to prevent yellowing. Try it the next time you do the washing. You'll see what I mean! Available at your neighbourhood grocery store.

IT'S A TRULY FRIGHTENING EXPERIENCE that first time you're witness to an asthma attack, with its tormenting gasping for breath and wheezing. That's why I'm happy to be able to tell chronic asthma sufferers about the relief they can have by taking RAZ-MAH Capsules. (And, for young sufferers... RAZ-MAH Capsules.) RAZ-MAH Capsules bring almost instant relief and yet they leave no unpleasant after-effects. Seeing is believing, and I saw how wonderfully effective they are. That's why I recommend RAZ-MAH to anyone suffering from asthma or chronic bronchitis.

WISH-BONE HAS A SILVER DOLLAR FOR YOU! It's to introduce the new 16 oz. economy size Wish-Bone Deluxe French and Italian Dressings. Or, you get a half dollar for trying the three regular 8 oz. size dressings—French, Italian and Deluxe French. Wish-Bone's bold, zippy flavours are blended from authentic continental recipes. Put more flavour in your salads—buy WISH-BONE DRESSINGS now and send the neckbands from either the two 16 oz. size or the three 8 oz. size dressings to me at 1411 Crescent Street, Montreal for your free silver dollar or half dollar. Offer expires June 15, 1962.

WANT A WASH AS FRESH and soft as a Spring breeze? Believe me, it's easy with CALGON, the wonder water conditioner. Calgon conditions water so you need less soap... it gets clothes softer, more absorbent and really clean. That's because it prevents "hangover dirt"... the film of soil, minerals, soap or detergent that sticks to your clothes. (Like the ring you get in the bathtub.) I've proved to myself, time and time again, that with Calgon my wash is never stiff or scratchy... colours never drab or dingy. Do try it... for brighter, cleaner laundry... Calgon water conditioner!

JUST LIKE A SPRING TONIC... here's a vegetable so crisp and tangy, it's like a breath of Spring. Yes, crisp, golden LIBBY'S SAUERKRAUT will spark your family's appetites just like a spring tonic. Serve it hot with meat such as pork or frankfurters... or serve it cold in salads, sandwiches. Libby's Sauerkraut blends deliciously with almost any protein sandwich-filling, such as sardines or cold meats. What's more, Libby's Sauerkraut is low in cost. No wonder 9 out of 10 cans of sauerkraut sold in Canada come from Libby's modern kitchens!

Honey for Spring Touch

Because the nation's supply of honey is excellent and plentiful, the homemaker searches for varied ways to use honey to advantage without repeating the same dish too often, even though proven popular. Try something different. Try something new. Honey, prized as a sweet since ancient days, goes well in up-to-date ways. Honey adds a touch of spring to winter weary dishes. Vegetables become specialties when a few tricks alter the whole style of the serving.

Try this method on a can of beets—sliced, cubed or shoe-string style.

CANNED BEETS SPECIAL

Two tablespoons honey; 2 tablespoons vinegar; 2 thin slices of onion and a pinch of salt and dash of pepper.

To an 8-ounce can of beets, add the above mixture. Bring to the boiling point. Serve hot. Or give Honeyed Pineapple Carrots a try: 12 small carrots; 2 tablespoons butter; 1/4 cup honey; 1 tablespoon lemon juice; 1/2 cup crushed pineapple, drained.

Cook whole carrots in a small quantity of boiling, salted water until just tender. Melt butter in shallow pan; add honey, lemon juice and pineapple. Add carrots and turn to coat evenly. Bake at 350 degrees F. for about 5 minutes. Makes 4 servings.

Heirs to Great Traditions

"We Canadians are heirs to everything the ages have left from the two great Anglo-Saxon and French traditions. We have a magnificent country, a magnificent history, and eventually we will have a literary, musical and artistic culture second to none," said Mrs. Rupert Neil, MBE, provincial director of the Canadian Federation of University Women, when she addressed the Victoria Club.

"It is my firm conviction that all great art is based on certain facts of human existence and history, but, whether it be of certain personal or universal significance, it must have principles recognizable to the intelligent mind," said Mrs. Neil.

"Vitality is the characteristic of great art," the speaker said, "and a work may lack this vitality because the creator has failed to draw upon the deep wells of human experience. Art is elevated experience."

Describing the novel as the latest great literary form, Mrs. Neil believes its present decline is due to its being increasingly subjective and formless.

Abstract art has become

English Nurses

Canada-Bound
For Better Pay

LONDON (CP) — Three nurses added fuel Tuesday to Britain's nursing pay controversy when they announced they were heading for Canada where they could earn three times as much as they were getting at home.

The nurses, now earning £5 (£23.20) a week, will get about $66.70 a week when they start work next month in Toronto's Western Hospital. Three months later their pay is to go up $25.80 a week.

"We love nursing and would not dream of doing anything else," said Sue Ware, 24, of Shrewsbury's Royal Shropshire Infirmary.

"But after six years of service we're hardly paid enough to live on."

OFFER IS LAST STRAW

She added the last straw was the health minister's offer of a pay increase totalling 2½ per cent.

With Sue on the Empress of Britain next month will be Georgina Newbrook, 23, and Jean Corbett, 22.

ST. JOHN'S

St. John's Anglican Church Afternoon Branch of the Woman's Auxiliary will meet Tuesday, April 24 at 2 p.m. in the lower hall.

widely accepted and will become part of a tradition which our own particular ability will leave in time, she said.

"No great Canadian literature will arise until we study our own people and problems, deeming them significant. We must face the fact that today we witness a clash between civilization and barbarism similar to that of the heroic age."

Woolford-Dewdney

Harrison Hot Springs
For Wedding Trip

St. Luke's Church, prettily decorated with spring flowers, was the scene of the wedding of Dianne Sharon Dewdney to Mr. George William Woolford. Rev. T. D. B. Ragg officiated for the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Dewdney, 4331 Glenford Avenue, and the son of Mr. and Mrs. C. Woolford.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was charming in white peau de sole with lily-point sleeves, bouffant skirt with bustle and fashioned slightly entrain. A pouf veil of illusion net was held in place by a dainty coronet of seed pearls. She wore a string of pearls, gift of the groom, and carried pink rapture roses.

Four attendants preceded the bride down the aisle. Mrs. N. Webber, matron of honor; Miss Jean Woolford and Miss Linda Mader, as bridesmaids and Linda Mair as flower-girl, a cousin of the bride. The attendants wore pastel yellow and mauve and carried colonial bouquets of mauve carnations and feathered hyacinths.

Groomsmen were Mr. Jack Woolford, twin brother of the groom. Ushers were Mr. Doug Dewdney and Mr. Don Woolford.

Following the honeymoon in the War Amputee's Hall, the newlyweds left on a honeymoon to Harrison Hot Springs. For travelling, the bride changed into a dress of pale pink with deeper pink topcoat.

On returning, they will reside in Victoria.

Miss Thompson
Honored at Tea

Bride-elect, Miss Sharon Thompson was honored at a tea for 30 guests by Mrs. J. J. McRae in her Athlone Drive home this week.

Pink and white tulips, pink hyacinth and pink candles decorated the tea table.

Mrs. F. Latham, matron-of-honor was assisted in serving by junior bridesmaid, Miss Cathy Mooney, sister of the groom. The bride was given a gardenia corsage and her mother, and the mother of the groom were also given flowers.

New Home Recipe
Reducing Plan

It's simple how quickly one may lose pounds of unsightly fat right in your own home. Make this home recipe yourself. It's easy, no trouble at all and costs little. Just go to your drug store and ask for four ounces of Naran Concentrate. Pour this into a pint bottle and add enough grapefruit juice to fill the bottle. Take two tablespoons full a day as needed and follow the Naran Plan. If your first purchase does not show you a simple easy way to lose bulky fat and help regain slender more graceful curves; if reducible pounds and inches of excess fat don't disappear from neck, chin, arms, abdomen, hips, calves and ankles just return the empty bottle for your money back. Follow this easy way endorsed by many who have tried this plan and help bring back alluring curves and graceful slenderness. Note how quickly meat disappears—how much better you feel. More alive, youthful appearing and active. Adv.

Bright with spring blooms and echoing to the joyful strains of Easter music, city churches will observe throughout Sunday one of Christendom's happiest festivals.

Most will have special music to supplement the familiar Easter carols and all will be crowded with congregations clad in the spirit and dress of spring.

Among the special services planned are these:

At Esquimalt United Church a father-son team will occupy the pulpit Sunday at 11 a.m., when Dr. George Turpin, chaplain of Shaughnessy Hospital, Vancouver, is guest of his son, Rev. Howard Turpin.

A gift of a new pulpit antependium and communion table will be dedicated at this service, and special music will be heard.

Special Easter Festival of the Nine Lessons will be observed Sunday at 7:30 p.m. at St. Matthew Anglican Church.

A note of regret will temper services Sunday at First Baptist Church when Rev. G. R. Stanley Sears at 7:30 p.m. will conduct the service and preach at 11 a.m. at Christ Church Cathedral, where Holy Communion will be celebrated at 7, 8 and 9:15 a.m.

At St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church Easter services will start with a special family service at 9:30 a.m. Other services will be at 11 a.m. and 7:30 p.m.

An Easter choral service will be presented by members of the choir at St. Aidan's United Church Sunday at 7:30 p.m.

Stacey Woods, general secretary of the International Fellowship of Evangelical Students, will speak at 8 p.m. Monday in St. Andrew's Kirk Hall, 643 Broughton, on his recent experiences with university students in many parts of the world.

On Retail Practices

Counter Moves Urged Against Oil Companies

OTTAWA (CP) — Service station retail practices by some oil companies should be countered through amendments to the Combines Investigation Act, said a report of the Restrictive Trade Practices Commission made public yesterday.

Some arrangements cannot "be economically justified in terms of benefit to the public," it said. They created a "cost-increasing tendency."

"There should . . . be a prohibition of exclusive dealing and tying arrangements . . . which are likely to lessen competition substantially, tend to create a monopoly or exclude competitors from a market to a significant degree."

AN INQUIRY

The report dealt with an inquiry into distribution and sale of automotive oils, greases, anti-freeze, additives, tires, batteries, accessories and related products.

A public hearing here last September followed an investigation into the situation started in 1953.

Evidence before the commission from retail and supply spokesmen said that some service stations are restricted by oil companies in the brand of accessories they can offer the public.

Justice Minister Fulton, in a statement accompanying the report yesterday, said its recommendations would receive "careful study and consideration."

Three specific practices were under scrutiny.

One is called "full-line forcing," under which a supplier such as an oil company agrees to sell or lease a commodity to the buyer—in this case a service station—on condition that a full line of other items is accepted.

DIRECTED BUYING

Another is called directed buying. A supplier agrees to sell or lease a commodity on condition that the buyer takes another sales item from a source specified by the seller.

The third arrangement is the market-access agreement under which an oil company would obtain accessories for its service stations from a selected supplier—in exchange for a special commission on all such sales made to those service stations.

INCREASE RENTAL

Said yesterday's report:

"It is clear that the power of an oil company to increase the rental of a leased (service) station at the end of the relatively short lease period, or to terminate a lease on short notice, places it in a strong position to induce or persuade a reluctant dealer to follow a distribution policy acceptable to the oil company."

Exodus Threat Called Misleading

REGINA (CP) — Premier Woodrow Lloyd, Health Minister W. G. Davies and Donald D. Tansley, chairman of the Saskatchewan medical care insurance commission, said yesterday they doubt the reliability of a newspaper survey of how many doctors plan to leave the province when the compulsory medical care plan goes into effect July 1.

Mr. Tansley said in a prepared statement the report of the survey was "nothing short of misleading." The questions were "leading and loaded."

He accused the Regina Leader-Post of "misinformation and outright hysteria."

Death Panel Found

BATTLE, England (CP) — Three hatchments identified by Britain's College of Heraldry provide a link with Gen. Robert Prescott, a tough soldier and one-time governor of Canada.

They had been hanging unidentified in an old church in this small Sussex town near the scene of the Battle of Hastings for close to 150 years. Two of the shields bearing the general's armorial bearings were restored and rehung but the third could not be saved.

SQUARE PANEL

A hatchment is an escutcheon painted on a square panel. It was hung diamond-wise in front of a house to give notice of a death. Afterwards, it was hung in church.

Prescott was born in Lancashire in 1725, the son of an impoverished family who forfeited their estates when they supported the losing Stuart cause against William of Orange.

In 1750 he went to Canada to fight under General Wolfe at Quebec. Later, as a colonel of the 28th Regiment, he fought in the American War of Independence, taking part in the battle of Long Island, the storming of Fort Washington in 1773 and the expedition against Philadelphia in 1777.

At age 60 he still was on active duty—serving in the campaign in the French West Indies and commanding the force which captured Martinique in 1794.

He returned to England the following year but in April, 1798, he succeeded Lord Dorchester as governor of Canada and the then territories of New Brunswick and Nova Scotia, an office he held for three years.

He retired at 74 and lived here until he died at 81.

He was buried in the churchyard of a church built by Edward I at Winchelsea, a few miles from here, and the three of Long Island, the storming of Fort Washington in 1773 and

MacMillans Going To Ontario

CORNWALL, Ont. (CP)—One thousand MacMillans from many parts of North America are expected to gather here in August for a clan reunion.

Hugh F. MacMillan, president of the Clan MacMillan Society of North America, said Sir Gordon MacMillan, clan chief, and Rev. Somerled MacMillan, clan bard, will attend.

The gathering will last from Aug. 2 to Aug. 5 and will take in the annual highland games at Maxville, 25 miles north of here.

A plaque will be unveiled to honor Allan Glenzean and Archibald Muriaggen MacMillan, two leaders who encouraged clansmen to settle Glenarry and Stormont counties 100 years ago.

Is Khrushchev Kin to Nobles?

WEINHEIM, West Germany (Reuters) — Nikita Khrushchev, who often has boasted of his proletarian origins, may in fact be the descendant of a blue-blooded nobleman, says a Russian-born banker with the same phonetic name.

Sergius von Chrushchhoff, a 60-year-old nobleman and banker, hopes to visit the Soviet Union soon to ask the Soviet premier:

"Are we related?"

Von Chrushchhoff, whose family name goes back as far as 1683 in the annals of Russian nobility, said that the Soviet leader's name alone was a good indication of noble origin.

NAMES, NOT TITLES

In pre-revolution Russia, he explained, the nobility was recognizable by names rather than by titles as in the West.

"I know of no common people who bore the name of Chrushchhoff," he said. The Cyrillic spelling of his name on his Russian birth certificate is identical with the Russian spelling of the name of the Soviet leader, he said. In Roman script, the name can be rendered in various ways.

BAD LUCK, ESTATES

But it is not the name alone which led von Chrushchhoff to believe that he may have a distant cousin in the Kremlin.

The family of Chrushchhoff, whose members served the Czars for generations as officials and military leaders, had large estates until the 1917 revolution—in the region of Kuruk, close to the Ukrainian border.

Near one of these estates is

Group to Burn Cheap Textiles

LONDON (AP)—British textile makers agreed Thursday to light a bonfire of cheap foreign textiles in the heart of London in protest against the high rate of imports.

A spokesman for a textile group from Lancashire said the bonfire will be lit some time after Parliament returns from its Easter recess. The foreign textiles to be burned come from Hong Kong.

CAPITAL INFLOW

Transactions in stocks and bonds between Canada and other countries produced a net capital inflow of $273,000,000 in 1961.

the village of Kalinovka where, according to official Soviet publications, Nikita Sergeievich Khrushchev, first secretary of the Soviet Communist party, was born April 17, 1894, the son of a miner named Sergei.

According to one theory, the Soviet premier's father was, in fact, Sergey Nikolalevich Chrushchhoff, an official of the Soviet ministry of the interior, who owned land at Kalinovka, was removed from office, exiled and deprived of his possessions for taking part in revolutionary plotting.

Historical Puzzle

When's Robin's Day?

NOTTINGHAM, England (CP)—A local manufacturer has founded the League of the Merry Gentlemen of Sherwood Forest to provide some sort of historical footing for the legend of Robin Hood.

Founder Jim Lees says Nottingham has shamefully neglected its history by providing nothing except commercial brand names in remembrance of the famous 13-century outlaw.

He says his league will foster "an international band of folk young enough in heart to enjoy and preserve the stories of Robin Hood and his merry men without prejudice."

The league will also sponsor an annual Robin Hood's day in the city's medieval market square and help to preserve buildings, churches and trees associated with Robin and his band.

Among those approached to become patrons of the league are Countess Manvers, on whose land most of Sherwood Forest stands, and the current Sheriff of Nottingham. Lees admits there is one major snag in his plans. Nobody, not even the English Folk Dance and Song Society or the historians of Nottingham University, have the slightest idea when Robin Hood's day should fall.

Garden Notes

Mushrooms and Luck

By M. V. CHERNUT, FRM

If you are fond of mushrooms with your bacon—and this, to me, is a superb Sunday morning breakfast—this is a good time to take a whirl at getting some established in the back lawn.

Since the coming of the rotary power mower and the growing custom of leaving the fine, short mowings on the lawn, it is a lot easier nowadays to persuade mushrooms to grow than when our lawns were manicured to within an inch of their lives.

The technique is simple enough. Buy a brick of mushroom spawn in any garden shop or centre—it should cost around 75 cents. This looks like a slab of dried and compressed cow manure—which it is—impregnated with the spores of the mushrooms. Break up the slab into pieces about the size of a walnut.

Cut a six-inch circle of turf with your pocket knife and lift the disc of sod carefully. Dig a hole about six inches deep, drop in a trowelful of horse manure, insert a piece of spawn, and fill up with soil. Replace the circle of sod, water thoroughly and spunk it down hard with the back of the spade. Repeat here and there across the lawn.

I should warn you that this is definitely a long-shot gamble. Sometimes it works like a charm; more often than not, nothing happens at all except the grass greens up perceptibly in the spots enriched with manure. If you live right and were born lucky, though, you'll have so many mushrooms they'll be coming out your ears!

The suckering habit of some shrubs and trees, notably plums and certain varieties of lilac, can be very annoying, for if these suckers coming up from below the graft are permitted to grow and to multiply, the subject is ruined.

I don't know of any easy method of handling this problem, and about the only treatment that has any chance of success is to dig down alongside each sucker until its point of origin is exposed, and cut it off flush with the root, making a very smooth, clean cut. I usually smear a dab of vasoline on the cut surface in the fond hope of inhibiting future sucker growth from that particular spot, but I've never been satisfied in my own mind that this or any other treatment will keep more suckers from sprouting.

Suckers aren't always a dead loss, however, for in some subjects—ungrafted plums—they provide a quick and easy way of getting more shrubs to furnish other parts of the garden, or as gifts to friends and neighbors.

Viburnum fragrans, the lovely winter-flowering shrub with the sweetly-scented blossoms, is a great producer of suckers, but in this case they do no harm to the parent plant. If more of these shrubs are wanted, dig down and detach in the same way, and you will find that in almost every case the sucker has put out a few roots of its own. Such suckers can be planted up elsewhere in the garden to grow and develop.

Another shrub that comes true from suckers is the double-flowering almond, Prunus triloba floro-pleno, a most attractive subject that covers itself in spring with a great profusion of double pink blossoms. I have one of these growing in our back lawn, and I have found vigorous suckers coming up in the lawn two feet or more away from the parent bush. Detached down low, these rooted suckers make excellent plants.

Sun, Parade Mark Easter

By THE CANADIAN PRESS

Nuclear disarmament demonstrations, "bunny bundle" hops, major sports events and elaborate outdoor revues will add color to the standard Easter parades throughout Canada this weekend.

Weathermen generally promise sun for the fun, but as usual the accent over the holiday will be on religious services.

Roman Catholics today commemorate the death of Christ with the solemn but colorful service of mass. Protestant churches will mark Good Friday—the most sacred day in the Christian calendar—with traditional services.

Cloudy but warm weather is forecast for most of the Prairies.

Canadian National Railways

expects record traffic and plans to handle some 4,000 passengers out of Edmonton alone. Many will be heading for the Seattle world fair.

One of the many "ban-the-bomb" marches organized by the Campaign for Nuclear Disarmament will end in Edmonton in what organizers hope will be huge "peace circle."

British Columbia is expecting showers and rain throughout the province but many citizens, en route to the Seattle Fair, won't be bothered by the weather.

Boating will open on Stanley Park's Lost Lagoon in Vancouver, while many residents of the city will make the drive into the Okanagan area where the cherry trees are in bloom.

The 10,000 members of the Jewish faith in Vancouver started the celebration of Passover with a 21-gun salute fired from the top of Mount Royal in Montreal.

Most business firms are closed in Winnipeg today. Those with time off in Calgary will be able to go to the movies or watch a three-hour "vigil for peace" organized by the Fellowship for Reconciliation, the Society of Friends (Quakers) and the Association on Radiation Hazards.

Generally sunny weather is forecast for most of the Maritimes.

The First Presbyterian Church in Pictou, N.S., will be decorated with 1,000 lilacs received every year from an anonymous donor in Bermuda.

Ideal weather is expected in Quebec. The Queen's birthday will be observed at noon Saturday with a 21-gun salute fired from the top of Mount Royal in Montreal.

Ontario is the only province where the weather bureau predicts unseasonably cold weather.

A teen-age "bunny bundle" in London, Ont., fell about of police who objected to a draw for two watches from the advance sale of tickets.

Sunday will be the beginning, not the end, of Holy Week for members of Canada's Greek, Russian and Ukrainian orthodox churches. They adhere to the old calendar, dropped in the west 300 years ago.

Tony Keeps Feet on Deck

HOLLYWOOD (NANA)—Tony Curtis, rumored as flying secretly to Germany to visit 17-year-old ex-co-star Christina Kaufmann, was in reality secretly visiting with friends all over America—by train. Tony, who almost faints at the mere thought of being 10 feet off the ground, absolutely refuses to fly anywhere. It takes him two weeks to get to Europe. And actually today, you will find Tony on a sound stage at Universal-International beginning his new movie, 40 Pounds of Trouble.

In the cafe at U.I. I found Cary Grant, and promptly tackled him about the co-starring role with Her Serene Highness Grace Kelly in Marjorie for Alfred Hitchcock. "In the first place, I haven't been asked," smiled Grant. "And in the second, I might be too old for the part." Stuff and nonsense. Cary will never be too old.

A pretty lady said "Hello," and it was Celeste Holm, who flew into town to star in a TV show. "Will you be staying?" I asked. "No," Celeste replied decisively. "My home is in New York, I was born there; I know every stick and stone." . . . And, in another corner of the cafe, Dana Andrews was lunching with a group that included Marilyn Erskine who, said Dana, "is playing my wife in a TV segment. She's about the same age as my—or-brother Steve." For a moment I thought Dana was going to say "my-son." "Any more plays on Broadway?" I asked the attractive Dana. "Not after what happened to The Captain and the Kings. It was a sad experience." Two critics disliked it. The others said it was good. But the play folded.

Charlie Chaplin, in London, named The Gold Rush as the picture he wants to be remembered by. He's off to Ireland with his family for some fishing. His autobiography will soon be published in England.

They are thinking of Cyd Charisse more as an actress than a dancer since her performance with Kirk Douglas in Two Weeks in Another Town. And no dancing for Cyd in Something's Got to Give, with Marilyn Monroe and Dean Martin. But Cyd dances so beautifully—especially in the Merry Widow sequence in Black Tights.

Brittelle Bardot is sleeping a bit easier since the man from the French OAS (Secret Army Organization) in Algeria, who demanded money from her, has been arrested by French police. Now that Brittelle's life has taken on a loftier aspect, I believe she has changed her mind about retiring.

John Forsythe invited Robert Horton and his wife Marilyn to dinner the other night, and also invited Barbara Bakke and her husband Johnny Williams. He quite forgot Barbara and Horton were once wed. It is difficult to remember who has been married to whom in Hollywood!

I had my French revolutions mixed up. Scarlet Pimpernel is not Tale of Two Cities, and it is the former Mrs. Danay Kaye is turning into a musical. And not necessarily for Danny — she would just as well have Mr. Lawrence Olivier in the role Leslie Howard did so well.

Blacktopping Set

Civil Servants to Get More Parking Space

Provincial works department will shortly start blacktopping new government parking facilities which will enable 150 more cars of civil servants to get off the streets.

Works Minister W. N. Chant said yesterday that the recently-acquired tennis courts property near the motor vehicles branch would soon be blacktopped.

When completed the government parking lots will be able to accommodate about 800 to 900 cars of employees every day.

Latest estimates are that 1,100 cars are brought to work by civil servants daily.

"More facilities will become available for parking as time goes by," said Mr. Chant.

City council recently imposed stringent one-hour parking restrictions on streets in the government buildings precinct.

PLAN CONTINUES The minister said he could not argue against the restrictions because something had to be done to prevent streets in the area becoming blocked. Mr. Chant added that the government plan of assuring "pool" cars reserved parking spaces was continuing. Under this scheme three or more civil servants who come to work in one car may get a

BBG Won't Thaw Vancouver Freeze

OTTAWA (CP) — The Board of Broadcast Governors yesterday in effect continued its freeze against new radio operations in Vancouver.

It recommended government denial of private applications to set up new standard-band radio stations in Burnaby and New Westminster, and also recommended against FM (frequency modulation) licence bids of stations CJOR and CKLG Vancouver and CKNW New Westminster.

"In the opinion of the board, the existing conditions in the Vancouver market do not justify at this time the establishment of any additional stations," said the BGG announcement. The board reserved decision on a CBC bid to increase its FM power in Vancouver.

Old Soldiers Hang On At Reunion

An under-strength company of old soldiers showed very little sign of fading away last night.

Better than 70 members of the Red Chevron Association—probably one of the most exclusive ex-servicemen's clubs in North America—roared lusty approval to the words of "rookie" George Pearkes, VC, major-general and lieutenant-governor of B.C. when he hailed the "tremendous bond of friendship" among old soldiers.

ROOKIE TAG

The rookie tag was self-imposed by the lieutenant-governor, who hailed the battle achievements of the Canadians in the first year of the First World War.

They were the heroes of the Ypres salient and the first gas attack by the time his lot got to France in 1915. Mr. Pearkes told the association's reunion dinner at the Glenside Hotel.

ANOTHER DIARY

Quoting the diary of another soldier—a veteran of the American Revolutionary War—who wrote of his feelings at discharge, Mr. Pearkes said active service imposed "as strict a bond of brotherhood as did the Masons."

He said he shared with the soldier of 200 years ago the same feeling of "separation as

Man Burned In Mishap At Armory

A 33-year-old army man suffered second-degree burns in an explosion at Bay Street Armory yesterday afternoon.

Police said David Gauvin was cleaning a compressor in the Canadian Scottish sergeants' mess when a heater ignited the cleaning fluid, setting off an explosion.

The victim was taken to HMCS Naden Hospital suffering burns to his face, legs and hands.

Courtroom Parade

Businessman's Plea Fails to Save Man

A man who admitted he obtained money by false pretences in order to buy liquor was sentenced yesterday to two years in the penitentiary.

John Albert Emond charged goods to the value of some $100 at BAPCO Paint and Supply Co. and some $40 at Wilson Stationery and signed the name of a city businessman.

He told the court he had sold the goods—paint and ledger-sheets—to buy liquor.

The businessman whose name Emond had used appeared as a witness in court and offered to assume all Emond's obligations.

He said he had suffered a "drinking problem" himself, and had been able to conquer it.

Indecent Assault Charged

Stuart Owen Duffey, whose address was given as 450 Belmont Road, was charged in Saanich police court yesterday with indecent assault on a female.

Long Beach Exercise For Militia

Fifty-one members of the local militia left Victoria last night for a three-day signals operation in the heavily-wooded Long Beach area on the West Coast of Vancouver Island.

They left Bay Street Armory at 7.30 p.m. in 13 army trucks and were to spend the night at Little Qualicum Falls several miles west of Parksville.

Foresters Give $1,500

A $1,500 cheque was presented to the Greater Victoria Association for the Retarded by Court Victoria, Independent Order of Foresters yesterday.

City Surplus $164,395

City hall surplus from last year's budget is $164,395.16, comptroller-treasurer James Bramley announced yesterday.

"A big part of the surplus resulted from excellent tax collections in 1961," he told a meeting of city finance committee.

Victoria Girls' Drill Team will wash cars to raise money for new drums Saturday.

The wash will be held at Westview Garage at Trans-Canada Highway and Tillicum from 8.30 a.m. to 5 p.m.

'Free Run' System Accepted

Purchase of the automatic traffic control system—designed to give fire vehicles clear run—installed three months ago for trial by Victoria fire department was recommended to city council yesterday.

Cost of the system—$9,800—was provided for in last year's city budget.

The three-month trial period ended Wednesday and in a report to city fire wardens committee yesterday, Fire Chief James Bayliss reported the system has been operating to his complete satisfaction.

CHANGE LIGHTS

The control devices enable drivers of fire vehicles to change traffic lights at key intersections so that they show red in all directions, halting regular traffic.

Seven city intersections, from the Yates Street firehall, along Cook Street and down Bay Street to the Point Elliot Bridge were fitted with the controls for the three-month test period.

Last Rites Held For Farmer

Funeral services were held yesterday for well-known poultry farmer Edwin Charles Gillingham, 70, who died here Tuesday.

The owner of the Morning-side Fruit and Poultry Farm on Arbutus Road, Mr. Gillingham was born in Centralia, Wash., and came here 18 years ago. Eggs from the 18,000 chickens he owned were shipped to all parts of Vancouver Island. He also owned one of the last large commercial orchards on the island.

Mr. Gillingham was chief accountant for the Howe Sound Co. at its Britannia Beach copper mine before coming here.

He is survived by the widow, Lucille, at home; a son Jack Gillingham, Clemson, South Carolina; two daughters, Mrs. D. L. Fairweather, Vancouver, and Mrs. J. K. Jones, Portland, Ore.; 10 grandchildren; one brother and three sisters.

Mayor May Take Pipers to Fair

Tentative details of the program for Victoria Day, Sept. 10, at Seattle's Century 21 world's fair were made public yesterday.

In a letter to city entertainment committee, William Hawkins, Victoria and Island Publicity Bureau commissioner, said Mayor R. B. Wilson and Mrs. Wilson will likely be met by the Mayor of Seattle and then given a police escort to an official luncheon.

"Thereafter to make a combined official entrance to the fair, itself, probably exchanging some type of suitable gift," he said.

"I also feel that if possible, your party from Victoria should include the pipe band from the Canadian Scottish or the band from the PCLL.

"This would be a most colorful addition to the world's fair itself but would also group a suitable background for your entrance to the stadium."

"I also believe that it would be an opportunity for the combination of the Victoria Girls' Drill Team and the Chinese Girls' Drill Team to carry out a combined and intricate drill before the public in the stadium," he wrote.

Mayor Wilson and Ald. Austin Curtis were appointed to work on arrangements for the special day.

Sharing Hits Snag

By DAVE McINTOSH
OTTAWA (CP)—Canada apparently is having a harder time trying to sell Britain on defence production-sharing than it did the United States.

Canada now has two big defence projects which it can have done in the United Kingdom: Three conventional submarines and a repair and overhaul contract for the CF-104 low-level jet bomber. The CF-104 will be flown by the RCAF air division in Europe and regular overhaul will have to be done overseas.

If Canada places these two contracts—worth some $55,000,000 together—in Britain, it wants the U.K. to purchase defence equipment of approximately equal value in Canada.

But Britain holds some ace, too.

For one thing, it hasn't yet signed a contract to purchase Canadian uranium in 1963-64.

And so far it has balked at giving a licence to land at Long-Point Canadian Pacific Air-Idon.

Huge Crowd Joins In Vatican Mass

VATICAN CITY (AP)—The biggest Holy Week crowd in St. Peter's Basilica in recent years pressed shoulder to shoulder around the gold-and-bronze papal altar for solemn high mass this Holy Thursday.

Paolo Cardinal Marella, member of the Vatican curia, mounted the carpeted altar steps above the crypt where St. Peter was buried. Later he removed his gold-encrusted outer vestment and put on a white apron to wash the feet of 12 student priests—commemorating Christ's action at the Last Supper.

The Roman Catholic ritual—a highlight of Holy Thursday ceremonies opening the solemn three-day period before Easter—was repeated in many other churches throughout Rome.

The Pope, who had humbly washed the feet of seminarians the last three years, did not take part in the ritual in St. Peter's this year.

He consecrated 12 cardinals as bishops earlier in the day in another Holy Thursday service at the Basilica of St. John Lateran, his see as bishop of Rome.

Tug Pay Boost Favored

OTTAWA (CP)—A majority conciliation board report into dispute between British Columbia Towboat Owners' Association and 300 members of the Canadian Brotherhood of Railway, Transport and General Workers has recommended a $22 a month wage increase over the last two years of a three-year contract.

The report, signed by board chairman Cyril White and T. E. H. Ellis, the towboat owners' representative, recommended a $10-a-month increase over the second year and $12 a month over the third year of a three-year contract.

Jack Lawson, the union nominee, submitted a minority report in which he said the majority submission, by offering the equivalent of 3-1-3 per cent and four per cent increases over the last two years of the contract, was too far removed from the union's original demand of 10 per cent over a one-year contract. He favored the union's compromise proposal of five per cent wage increases over each year of a two-year agreement.

No Spring Peak

Fallout Stays Low

An expected "spring peak" of fallout from Russia's bomb tests last year has failed to materialize so far, Dr. William English of the Pacific Naval Laboratory said yesterday.

Actual fallout count has shown some fluctuation, but is measurably the same as it was in December, he said.

The incidence of fallout has dropped from the October peak which followed the bomb tests, he added.

Research Taking Man to Edge Of Life Mysteries

By DON FOULTON and KEN MacTAGGART

"I have wasted 15 years of my life in cancer research. Until some fundamental discovery has solved the mystery of life, itself, our knowledge of cancer will not advance a single step."

Nobel laureate Paul Ehrlich said that, more than 50 years ago, when he abandoned cancer research and went on to produce The Magic Bullet (salvarsan) against syphilis. Thousands of scientists today understand his bitterness but their frustration is not as acute because new knowledge of the human cell has led them to the "edge of the mystery of life, itself."

SECRET OF CANCER
Within and around that cell lies the secret of cancer.

Today's scientist also has money with which to buy research machinery beyond even Ehrlich's dreams. One centre, alone (Sloan-Kettering) expects to spend $125,000,000 within a five-year period which began in April, 1960.

AVOID DUPLICATION
The centrifuges whirl in thousands of labs around the world, each lab in communication with the other to avoid duplication of research. Yet the cure for cancer eludes them and still more money is needed.

The Canadian Cancer Society, alone, supports 84 research projects (involving 108 scientists) and 26 research fellows. This year it will spend $1,634,820 on research and LONG ON BRAINS

The Canadian Cancer Society is short of funds but long on brains. Its scientists designed and built the first workable electron microscope, the first Cobalt bomb, connected the first "soup" in which polio viruses for Salk vaccine were grown.

Some Canadian scientists shy from agencies which predict that great discoveries are just around the corner. But they are heartened by the example of Edward Jenner (1749-1850) who found a vaccine for smallpox even though he didn't know why it gave immunity.

Cancer nowadays is treated—sometimes successfully—by surgery, radiation, and a considerable number of drugs, chemicals and hormones. It can only be treated suc-

Next Stop: Victoria

Argentine Police Round Up Reds

(CP from AP-Buenos Aires)

BUENOS AIRES—Argentine security forces announced early today the arrest of 156 Communists and the seizure of arms and propaganda materials.

Federal police headquarters said the persons arrested in a series of raids were "of known militancy in communism and its allied organizations." The raids were carried out in Buenos Aires and other key cities, headquarters said.

The announcement came as President Jose Maria Guido met military leaders to discuss their demands for outlawing of Communists and Peronists. The military authorities were reported bearing down on Guido.

The centre of the capital was quiet despite the roundup which took place in Buenos Aires as well as inland cities.

DOUGLAS JUNG

Jung Unites Family

VANCOUVER (CP)—Douglas Jung, Progressive Conservative member of Parliament for Vancouver Centre, has reunited a 12-year-old Chinese boy with his parents after cutting through three years of red tape with a flying visit to Hong Kong.

Mr. Jung brought Chan Quam Lum to Vancouver with him to join his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Chan Sai Chung, and two of his brothers. His parents had not seen Chan Quam for 10 years.

Mr. and Mrs. Chan arrived separately in Canada under false identities. Two sons were left with a foster parent in Hong Kong.

"Mr. Chan came to me three years ago, and I urged him to make a voluntary statement to regularize his status," Mr. Jung said.

Trial Flight Kills Three

TOULOUSE (Reuters)—A prototype of the twin-engine "Atlantic" reconnaissance plane crashed on a trial flight in southwest France Thursday night, killing its crew of three.

The plane, designed for reconnaissance and anti-submarine operations by NATO forces, was built by the French Bréguet Company.

'Texas Tower' Nearly Taken

NEW YORK (AP)—The New York Daily News today says the crew of a Russian trawler almost boarded a U.S. Texas Tower which had been temporarily abandoned during rough weather.

To prevent its occupation by the Reds, air force and coast guard units had to race to Texas Tower 2, a $21,000,000 radar structure at Georges Bank, about 110 miles east of the tip of Cape Cod.

The newspaper attributes its report to an unidentified coast guard officer. It does not say when the incident occurred.

Both the air force and the coast guard confirmed. The News says that the steel and concrete radar posts have been abandoned on a few occasions since the loss of 28 men in the collapse of Texas Tower 1 on Jan. 15, 1961, in a storm, 80 miles southeast of New York.

The tower is situated in international waters. A ship abandoned under similar circumstances can be claimed by anyone who boards it.

Gulf-to-Mainland Getting New Ship

Tenders for the construction of a new 40-car ferry for the Gulf Islands-Mainland service will be called within the next few weeks, ferry authority officials said yesterday.

SHIPWRECK STOPPED

The ship must be completed in time for service in mid-1963.

The Gulf Islands-Mainland service was stopped some time ago when the privately-owned ferry service which had been operated withdrew from the run.

400 PASSENGERS

The new ferry will initially carry a maximum of 40 cars but can be changed to take 60 cars sometime in the future. The ship will also be able to accommodate 400 passengers.

Gondoliers In Blockade

Court Frees BCE Assets In Victory for Government

VANCOUVER (CP)—The provincial government won its first court victory Thursday in litigation with the B.C. Power Corporation over the sudden expropriation of the giant B.C. Electric public utility last August.

The five-man B.C. Court of Appeal in a 3-2 decision upheld the appeal of the former BCE and the attorney-general against a Supreme Court order placing it under receivership and freezing its assets.

B.C. Power obtained the receivership order from Supreme Court Justice Harold McInnes March 22 pending outcome of a suit due for hearing May 1 on legality of the takeover legislation. The order named Dr. H. L. Purdy, former BCE president, as receiver to guard BCE assets said to total $200,000,000.

FREE ASSETS

The appeal court decision nullifies the receivership and frees the assets of BCE, which, technically no longer exists. The government merged it on paper with the B.C. Power Commission into a single authority—the B.C. Hydro and Power Authority—seven while the appeal was under consideration. Dr. Purdy as receiver was not consulted about the merger.

'Book Closed' On Grounding

Captain of the B.C. government ferry Mv. Chinook will not be penalized for the vessel's unscheduled excursion onto the rocks of Snake Island at the mouth of Nanaimo Harbour April 5.

An announcement yesterday by the federal department of transport in Ottawa said a preliminary report on the incident placed blame squarely on the captain's shoulders but ruled that no formal inquiry will be held.

Monty Aldous, general manager of B.C. ferries, said last night the B.C. Toll Authority is taking no action against Capt. Roy Barry, master of the Chinook, who was reinstated the day after the grounding.

"The incident is now a closed book so far as the department is concerned," said an official.

Prisoners Threaten Suspect, 19

TORONTO (CP)—Police brought Gary McCorkell, 19, into court separately from other prisoners yesterday and assigned him a cell by himself following reports that other prisoners were threatening to attack him.

McCorkell is charged with capital murder in the slaying of two young boys Wednesday night.

Ronald MacLennan, 3, and his playmate, Michael Atkinson, 2, were found dead on the second floor of a furniture warehouse where McCorkell works.

Man, Boy Rescued In Drifting Boat

SEATTLE (AP)—A 31-foot fishing boat with a man and boy aboard was found late Thursday drifting about 50 miles south of Tacoma.

The coast guard said one of its vessels towed the boat to Lapush. Officers said Joe Babcock, 15, Aberdeen, and Glenn Burns, 26, Mora, were cold and hungry but in "good shape." They had not been reported since 5 a.m. Wednesday when they left Lapush. The boat, The Shamrock, was on a trial run. There was little fresh water, and no food nor blankets aboard. The craft carried no radio.

Germans Charge Ex-SS Officer

FLENSBURG (Reuters)—A former SS officer, Martin Fellenz, has been charged with murder for his alleged part in the wartime mass executions of Jews in Poland, West German justice authorities announced Thursday.

An elderly woman died in the collision of an old-model car and a luxury sedan at the corner of Fairfield and Foul Bay Road at 3:25 p.m. yesterday.

The victim is Mrs. Blossom Smith, about 60, of 1502 Regatta Place.

FAIR EASTERN CRUISE

Josephine Carroll, 5, was unhurt.

Both sailors had returned yesterday morning from a 3½-month cruise to the Orient.

HEADLESS DOLL

A headless Japanese doll and other toys brought back by Raymond Carroll for his daughter, lay scattered and broken on the road and on the front seat of the Carroll's old-model car.

The collision was accompanied by a crash which witnesses said was "like a bomb." Black smoke rose from the cars.

FRACTURED SHOULDER

Most seriously injured was George Smith, admitted to Royal Jubilee Hospital with a fractured right shoulder and cut left ear, and shock.

Mrs. Carroll, 1711 Cedar Hill Road, was treated at Royal Jubilee for cuts and shock, then released.

TRANSFERRED

Sherman and Carroll were transferred from Royal Jubilee to HMCS Naden sick bay. LS Carroll remained in hospital with multiple lacerations to the head.

AB Sherman was treated for slight lacerations of the forehead and released.

SECOND FATALITY

It was the second fatal accident at the same corner in recent times. Mrs. Annie Mayne, 78, was killed in a collision there in 1960.

Witnesses said the Carroll car was travelling north on Foul Bay Road when it collided near the centre of the intersection with the Smith car, driven east on Fairfield.

FELL FROM DOOR

As both cars were swept northward on Foul Bay Road, Mrs. Smith tumbled from the passenger-side door.

Both cars were badly damaged. The Smith car came to a stop against the left curb.

BOUNCED LIKE BOMB

"It sounded like a bomb going off," said Mrs. E. A. McGowan, 319 Irving, who had just halted her car nearby.

Said Paul Holden, 10, 1510 Belcher: "A lady fell out the door of a car. Part of the car seemed to go over her."

Mrs. Smith was taken to St. Joseph's Hospital and pronounced dead at 3:40 p.m.

He Wed Widow, Hid a Fortune

WASHINGTON (AP)—When Charles R. Goddard was 21, a 70-year-old widow gave him a small fortune for marrying her. Goddard kept the "marriage settlement" a secret for 40 years. Now, the tax court of the United States has ruled he doesn't have to pay income tax on the remains of what he says was a $300,000 settlement.

The story of Goddard, now 74, and the widow, Lucinda M. Treat, started in 1921. Court records relate this tale: Goddard was working his way through Yale law school by selling ladies' hosiery from door to door when he met Mrs. Treat, widow of a successful cattle dealer. She developed an interest in him and, according to court papers, offered him $300,000 to marry her. Part of the bargain was that the marriage settlement be kept secret.

Goddard hid the money, continued his studies and began to practice law in Hartford, Conn. His wife died in 1913 leaving two-thirds of her estate to her adult son and one-third—$7,500—to Goddard.

Goddard came to Washington to work, first for the interior department and then for the Bureau of Internal Revenue. He was married again in 1922 and his wife had two children before she died in 1945.

All these years Goddard's hoard remained a secret. He even went into debt to buy property.

The secret was revealed by him in November of 1951. He was working as a $4,000-a-year employee of the bureau when the treasury department decided bureau employees had to file periodic financial statements.

Goddard listed his net worth as $251,294.13. Had he ever received an amount in excess of $5,000 by way of gift, bequest or legacy? "Yes . . . marriage settlement," answered Goddard.

The repercussions were swift and Goddard told all to bureau agents. There a long court battle began, with the government claiming he had failed to pay $38,000 in income taxes for the three-year period of 1948-50 and Goddard's lawyers claiming that bank deposits of about $52,000 were left over from the settlement with Mrs. Treat.

In a ruling last week the court cleared Goddard of fraud. However, the court disagreed with Goddard on one point. The sum he named as the amount of the settlement "exceeds the limit of our credulity," it said. The ruling therefore refers to the amount as "a considerable sum (over $100,000)." *

The city's major survey to plot color combinations to revitalize the downtown area could make Victoria look like a million dollars, but it won't cost anything like that.

Ald. A. W. Toome, who announced the survey, said this in answer to criticism by ratepayers who felt the description "million-dollar look" meant it would cost them $1,000,000.

"The only cost to be borne by ratepayers will be the time spent on the work by city hall staff," Ald. Toome said. Once the plan is prepared it will be available to downtown property owners without charge, but they will have to buy their own paint to improve their buildings.

"All the city is providing is the plan itself. It is up to the property owners to make use of it."

Sailors Roasted, Froze On 25,000-Mile Cruise

By G. E. MORTIMORE

Three ships of the Second Canadian Escort Squadron came home to Esquimalt yesterday after a 25,000-mile cruise that took them from snow to tropical heat. Destroyer-escorts Assiniboine, Ottawa and Margaree, bringing back 700 officers and men from the Orient, glided past Duntze Head in bright sunshine while HMCS Naden band played.

A many-colored throng of wives, children and girl friends in summer dresses crowded against the barriers on Jetty A. HMC Dockyard, to welcome home their men after the longest peacetime cruise in Pacific Coast history.

The three $27,000,000 submarine-killer ships had been away for 3½ months on a journey that took them as far west as Colombo, Singapore and Bangkok, and as far north as Adak in the Aleutians, their last port of call.

TWO EXERCISES

During the 105-day journey the RCN ships joined Canadian and Commonwealth vessels in two war exercises.

They also showed the Canadian flag in ports of the Far East where no Canadian warship had ever called before.

LIVE PEOPLE

Women and children began arriving at the dockyard gate as early as 8.30 a.m. yesterday. By the time the mast of the leading ship of the squadron, HMCS Assiniboine, appeared above the rocks of Duntze Head, 1,800 people had gathered on the jetty.

The long while "paying-off pennant" fluttered from Assiniboine's masthead — meaning the ship is going to pay off her crew and go in for refit.

EMBRACED HUSBANDS

Women, some carrying babies or trailing children, filed up the gang plank and embraced their husbands among Chinese-lettered cardboard boxes containing souvenirs brought home from Hong Kong and Japan.

Said Capt. Victor Brown, officer commanding the Assiniboine and the squadron: "The ships and men acquitted themselves very well, and we learned a great deal from the exercises in which we took part."

MAJOR WAR GAME

In the first major war-game near the Hawaiian Islands, in January, the squadron joined ships of the United States First Fleet, including an aircraft carrier, the USS Bennington, and some submarines.

For "Exercise Jet 62," the Canadian ships worked with 50 other ships of Commonwealth nations (including two carriers and two destroyers) in elaborate fights and pursuits across the Indian Ocean through the month of March.

The exercises included nuclear war training.

CANADIAN GRAVES
At Hong Kong, 350 Canadian sailors marched to lay a wreath on a Canadian war graves. Capt. Browne was one of 300 "ladpoles" who were dunked by King Neptune when they crossed the Equator.

The route: Pearl Harbor, Midway, Yokosuka, Japan, Subic Bay, Philippines, Singapore, Colombo, Trincomalee (Ceylon), Langkawi (small island off Malaysia), Port Swettenham (Malaya), Singapore, Bangkok, Yokosuka, Adak and home.

MALAYAN WELCOME
Most enthusiastic welcome: In Malaya, where heads of government appeared in full regalia.

In Ceylon, outside temperatures reached 105 degrees, engine-room temperatures, 150 degrees.

Banks Open Saturday

Greater Victoria banks will be closed today and Easter Monday but will open Saturday from 9 a.m. to 11 a.m.

Only Thought In Long Fall 'Dear God...'

By TED PULFORD

The platform upon which you are working, 80 feet above the pavement, creaks under a sudden strain but you don't hear it.

There is a lurch, the wood falls away from beneath your feet, and for a tiny particle of an instant your body hangs, weightless and without support, in space.

And then you fall. Unless a miracle intervenes, you will be dead in three seconds. In those crowded, dreadful last moments, what do you think of?

How do you feel?

David Schellenberg, 374 Bray, can tell you. Remembering the eight-storey plunge that should have killed him isn't a comfortable experience even yet, though the accident happened more than three weeks ago.

Interviewed last night in St. Joseph's Hospital, where he is recovering from injuries to a fall from 80 feet up on a high-rise apartment project, Mr. Schellenberg tried to sort out his memories. "I only had time to realize I was falling, then to think, 'Dear God, is it now?' and then there was nothing."

Memories of the few minutes prior to his fall haven't yet returned but Mr. Schellenberg recalls he was removing plumbing equipment from the hoist when it happened. He's had ample time to think

'It Really Paid Off'

"I've always looked after myself and eaten good food. I guess it really paid off."

Besides a broken jaw and severe damage to facial bones, Mr. Schellenberg suffered broken bones in both arms, a broken right leg and right thigh.

His wife of seven years clung to his hand during the entire interview. "It's been wonderful how quickly David has come around," she said. "I think the doctors will let me bring the children down on Sunday."

After he had worked steadily for several years without missing a single day, the accident caught the young couple and their three children unaware.

"I never realized before how wonderful friends are," he said. His comrades in the naval reserve, learning of the accident, turned up with offers to dig the garden, wash windows and even teach Mrs. Schellenberg how to drive the family car.

He's had ample time to think the accident over since he came to the hospital, however, and is sure that God was watching over him.

"I wouldn't have been here, otherwise. It's as simple as that."

Had the 37-year-old plumber been any less than the sound physical specimen he was, it is likely he wouldn't have lived to remember anything.

He's had ample time to think the accident over since he came to the hospital, however, and is sure that God was watching over him.

Lodging Bureau Fears Closure

Expo-Lodging's province-wide reservations network will be out of money—and out of business—within 20 days unless funds are found to feed the organization's mushrooming needs.

J. R. Corbett, chairman of Expo-Lodging for B.C. and managing director of the B.C. Hotels Association, yesterday laid responsibility for picking up the tab in the lap of the provincial government.

ASSIGNMENT PAID
"Every member hotel in B.C. has already paid an assessment of $2 a room for Expo's services," he said, "and we cannot ask our people to assume much more of the burden."

Pointing out that hotel and motel operators receive only 22 per cent of the tourist dollar—with the other 78 per cent going to general business—he urged that the cost load be more evenly distributed.

Earlier appeals to the B.C. government travel bureau resulted in a grant of $2,500 to the reservations service.

"At the rate our service is being used, that grant will only pay our telephone bill for one month," he said.

Because tourist dollars reach so deeply into every facet of the provincial economy, Mr. Corbett felt that the government was the logical place to go for funds.

"We cannot possibly drop the idea," he said. "Unless Expo functions throughout the season, absolute chaos will result."

City finance committee yesterday reversed its stand and recommended that city council make a $2,553 donation to the Victoria Expo-Lodging bureau.

A previous meeting of the committee recommended that council reject the application but Mayor R. R. Wilson, Ald. Geoffrey Edgewood and Ald. Michael Griffin spoke strongly in favor of making the grant.

The item was referred back to the finance committee meeting yesterday.

Teachers To Try Theories

NANAIMO—Student teachers will again be invited into classrooms throughout the Nanaimo school district, to try out their theories on live pupils.

District school board has announced it will continue its policy of bringing in student teachers, following the Easter holidays.

VALUABLE TRAINING

School board chairman W. J. Manion says: "Nanaimo school district feels actual teaching is valuable training to fledgling teachers."

The teachers, 40 or 50 of them, will take on classes at all levels of school in Nanaimo district, from elementary to high school.

REGULAR SEASON

Mr. Manion says Nanaimo is one of the few school districts to allow student teachers to hold classes during the regular school season.

It is felt this method attracts many future teachers to come to Nanaimo.

Freighter's Skipper Denies Polluting Chemainus Harbor

NANAIMO — Captain Paul Horne, master of the Norwegian freighter Greyhound, pleaded not guilty in police court here to dumping oil in Canadian waters.

It was alleged the ship polluted the Chemainus harbor April 12.

Capt. Horne said crew members were under instructions not to throw refuse overboard while in port.

He also said the ship had no need to pump out oil, or to remove sludge for the settling tanks.

The vessel had not been in service for a year and no sludge was due to be pumped out, he said.

He added that there were no entries in the log regarding discharge of sludge or oil.

Chemainus harbor is a site where several witnesses agreed the oil-like substance was spotted while the Greyhound and no other ship was in port.

The case was postponed until June 5.

Busy Month

Sharp Drop In Jobless

Summer hiring has cut deep into the number of registered unemployed in Greater Victoria, the national employment office reported yesterday.

Since the first of the month, 514 job placements have been made through the Victoria office and the number of persons still registered for jobs is below 3,600.

Greatest activity is in the men's unit, where 230 jobs have been filled, bringing the number of registered job seekers down to 2,140, a drop of better than 1,000 from last April's figure.

Smashup Hurts Man

COURTENAY — A Campbell River man was taken to Cumberland Hospital with undetermined injuries after a three-car smashup on the Island Highway last night at Union Bay, 10 miles south of here.

Police said the man's car struck two parked cars and hurtled them down an embankment. His own car flipped over on the highway, blocking traffic.

Careers Display Proves Big Campbell River Draw

CAMPBELL RIVER—Campbell River High School's first Career Exposition has proved an undoubted success.

Sponsored by the school board and the Rotary Club and aided by most business organizations in Campbell River, it drew 1,150 parents and others this week.

The large auditorium was transformed into 46 different booths for businesses to display their "wares."

Displays by the navy, army and air force attracted the attention of many males, while chief attractions for the girls included hairdressing and beauty exhibits.

Among other booths were those devoted to nursing, banking and laboratory work.

The school's principal, Mr. James Smith, said he hopes to make the exposition an annual affair.

NORTH COWICHAN—Council recently was informed a new SPCA inspector for the Duncan district will commence his duties at the beginning of May. Hired for the job was Mr. I. E. Gillick, who has farmed in the Dawson Creek area for the past 30 years.

DUNCAN—The central committee, composed of representatives from four school districts, will decide in the near future if an enrichment program for adults will be incorporated in this year's summer school, Cowichan school board learned Wednesday night.

The four districts concerned are Cowichan, Lake Cowichan, Ladysmith, and Salt Spring Island school districts. Chairman of the central committee is Harold Whitfield, vice-chairman of Cowichan school

Bursaries Available For School Students

DUNCAN—A total of 12 bursaries and scholarships are available to full course Grade 12 students in Cowichan school district, the school board learned Wednesday night.

The students are chosen primarily on the basis of academic standards, all-round good citizenship, ambition and ability. In the case of bursaries need must be proven.

FORMS COMPLETED

Application forms must be completed and returned to the school office not later than May 7.

The awards include: $300, IWA, Local 1-80; $500, MacMillan, Bloedel and Powell River Ltd., and $250 from the same company; $150, local branch IODE; $200, Business and Professional Women's Club; $100, Cowichan district Parent-Teacher Council; $350, Cowichan district Teachers' Association; $227, Duncan Registered Nurses' Association; $100, The Women of the Moose; $350, Rotary Club; $300, Cowichan Branch Royal Canadian Legion, and $75, Hospital Employees' Union, Local 180.

School Bill Set

DUNCAN—Total expenditure for education in Cowichan school district in 1962 will be $1,503,233, school board learned at its meeting this week.

GROSS TOTAL

The gross total is composed of operating surplus from last year, miscellaneous grants, recoveries of expenditures amounting to $30,986, debt retirement totalling $4,464, government grants amounting to $373,760 and district taxation, with a total of $894,623.

CARE NEEDED

Final apportionment of district taxation is: for Duncan $128,618, for the North Cowichan municipality $474,195, and for the rural area $291,246.

Commenting on the 1962 budget for the Cowichan school district chairman Will Peck said, the board has to be careful with spending and when necessary "corners have to be cut."

Legion Plans Junior Olympics

NANAIMO—The Canadian Legion is stepping up its crash campaign to prepare young Canadians for the world Olympics.

On the local front, Branch 256 in Nanaimo will hold a Junior Olympic meet June 2.

Winners in local events will enter a zone meet June 16 in the Hub City.

From the zone meet, top athletes will go to the provincial Legion-sponsored Junior Olympics.

LT. CMDR. ALEXANDER FOX of Duncan recently was appointed to Commander and given command of HMCS Athabaskan, a coastal class destroyer escort based at Halifax. Commander Fox entered the Royal Canadian Navy in 1942 as a cadet.

DUNCAN—Local trucking firm Meewow Transport Ltd. pleaded guilty to operating a motor vehicle contrary to the licence and was fined $15 in police court. While not authorized to do so the firm hauled board. Mr. Whitfield said yesterday, the next meeting will be held May 2.

DUNCAN—Local Junior Chamber of Commerce will advise city council it is prepared to man the float representing Duncan at the parades in Victoria, Chemainus, Nanaimo and the local fall fair later this year. The float presently is being built by the North Cowichan Volunteer Fire Brigade and the Duncan Lions Club.

At their last meeting Wednesday the local Jaycees heard an address from Warren Ronquist of B.C. Telephone on the direct distance dial system. With regret members of the junior chamber acknowledged the resignation of Arnie Williams from the newly-formed community centre committee because of poor health. Mr. Williams' successor is George Schmidt.

NANAIMO—Nigel Morgan, B.C. leader of the Communist Party of Canada, appealed for support for the demand that the draft Columbia River treaty with the U.S. be rejected.

PARKSVILLE—Members of Mt. Arrowsmith Branch 49 Royal Canadian Legion are being asked to assist the membership committee under the chairmanship of Charles Baker in gaining new members for the branch. The request was made by the president, George Dodds, following the reading of a letter from zone commander Joe Cates stating that membership in the Legion in general has gone down recently.

It was agreed to assist the Little League Baseball club by donating $50 towards equipping a team in the senior division.

COURTENAY—William Simpson and Edison Burgess Dixon were committed for trial on a charge of robbery with violence.

The charge arose from the alleged beating of Rex Field and theft of money and plugs from him.

Schools To Lose Libraries?

NANAIMO—Schools in the Greater Nanaimo area are in danger of losing their libraries.

The Vancouver Island regional library has announced it will no longer stock schools with more than five classrooms.

School board chairman Waidie Manion says something will have to be done about this. "A library is a necessity, especially for older students," he said.
